The Romanoff Jewelry.
Manna at 9 to 1.
Ford's New Plan.
$250,000,000 a Year.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

To prove its solvency the soviet government invited all foreign representatives to inspect the $50,000,000 Romanoff jewel collection, still intact.

The envoys having carefully studied the piles of diamonds, pearls, rubies, gold an platinum, are supposed to have said like Mr. Warfield at Weber and Fields:

"My boy, your word is sufficient."

Bolshevism keeps the jewels, including a miniature railroad train, studded with big diamonds, as a horrible example and proof of Romanoff extravagance.

But it's what the czars did that counts, not what they spent. The great Peter spent all that Russia had and borrowed more.

But he created Russia and was a first class investment.

Manna won the English derby at 9 to 1. Steve Donoghue rode the horse, winning his sixth derby. All that means more to 70 per cent of Great Britain's population than all the other news of the week put together. In this country we don't devote such intense nation-wide interest to any race. We save that for a prize fight.

Henry Ford will use United States ships, if he gets them, to take cars south and around into the Gulf of Mexico and bring fruit and vegetables back to the north.

That program would be welcomed by millions. It would help to solve one problem of distribution and develop the great producing regions of the south as they should be developed.

Henry Ford's route, of course, should be extended through the Panama canal to the west coast. That would not please trans-continental railroads, but they could make it up somehow.

Lord Bradbury, formerly British member of the reparations commission, says France could pay $250,000,000 a year on account of her debts, to be divided between England and the United States, and that regardless of the amount France may receive from Germany.

French statesmen, who know more about France's financial position than any Englishman can know, declare such payment is impossible. At the present rate of exchange $250,000,000 would be 5,000,000,000 francs a year, which is the amount that Bismarck took as the price of French defeat in 1870.

The worst feature of the discussion is the fall of the French franc.

Amundsen has been missing six days, and the president expresses willingness to send one of our dirigibles to look for him. If disaster has happened to the courageous explorers,

A split switch was given as the cause of the ditching of the crack express. State police began an investigation.

Zambino, the only passenger hurt, was riding in the smoker, which did not leave the rails.

Williams, the fireman, was caught in a cloud of scalding steam when the locomotive tipped over.

Death was caused by a fist being brutally rammed down the girl's throat, it was stated after a preliminary medical examination by Dr. E. E. Martin.

Miss Kane attended a theatre performance in Manhattan with 15 other girls last night, it was learned, and was on her way home alone when met by her assailant.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 29.—Confessing according to authorities, to one of the most deliberate and brutal double murders on record here, Raymond Winters, 30 an interurban conductor, was today formally charged with slaying Helen Sabo, 6, and her brother Alexander, 8.

The children's bodies were recovered from a creek near their home, with both skulls crushed. Assistant district Attorney Harry Estep declared Winters, under a three-hour grilling, broke down and confessed that he lured the children to the creek, with candies and ice cream, then murdered them.

"I don't know why I did it, detectives quoted Winters as saying.

"I hit one of them on the head with a rock, and after that my recollection gets hazy."

Immediately after arraignment, the conductor was removed to the Allegheny county jail, under heavy guard, where he will be held until this afernoon when the prosecutor again will grill him.

The alleged slayer was a veteran of the World War, gassed several times, he said.

Zambino, the only passenger hurt, was riding in the smoker, which did not leave the rails.

Williams, the fireman, was caught in a cloud of scalding steam when the locomotive tipped over.

Van Meter will be given a hearing before Mayor Brown at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Relatives announced this morning that counsel would be engaged to defend him.

On his way home from work at 6 o'clock, Purdy accepted a fellow worker's invitation to ride. As his home is but a few blocks away, he stood on the running board of the car. Near his home, the machine slowed up and Purdy alighted.

As Purdy stepped to the street to cross to his home, he was struck by Van Meter's car and hurled 30 feet

Coroner Is Notified.

A call was sent for the Sturgis ambulance, but before it arrived Purdy was placed in a passing automobile and rushed to the hospital. Dr. R. J. Marshall, who examined the injured man, found his skull badly crushed. The victim died without regaining consciousness.

Purdy's body was removed to the Miller undertaking establishment. County Coroner J. M. Van Fossan, East Palestine, is expected to arrive here late this afternoon to conduct an inquest.

BROOKLYN GIRL BRUTALLY ATTACKED AND SLAIN; BODY FOUND IN LOT

Police Search for Moral Weakling Who Bound and Gagged Victim Within Stone's Throw of Home.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Brutally attacked and murdered, the body of Miss Florence Kane, 24, of Brooklyn, was found bound and gagged in a vacant lot within a stone's throw of her home this morning.

Police and detectives, among them Detective James Kane, her brother, who ironically enough was sent to the scene at the first call when her identity had not yet been established, are searching for an unidentified moral weakling as her slayer.

Death was caused by a fist being brutally rammed down the girl's throat, it was stated after a preliminary medical examination by Dr. E. E. Martin.

Miss Kane attended a theatre performance in Manhattan with 15 other girls last night, it was learned, and was on her way home alone when met by her assailant.

Her hands had been tied together with a yellow sash which she wore and a part of her flannel underclothing had been made into a gag and stuffed in her mouth. Despite these things, the girl's struggles apparently

STREET CAR CONDUCTOR CONFESSES MURDER OF TWO SMALL CHILDREN

Brutal Double Crime Uncovered When Tots' Bodies, With Skulls Crushed, are Recovered From Creek.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 29.—Confessing according to authorities, to one of the most deliberate and brutal double murders on record here, Raymond Winters, 30 an interurban conductor, was today formally charged with slaying Helen Sabo, 6, and her brother Alexander, 8.

The children's bodies were recovered from a creek near their home, with both skulls crushed. Assistant district Attorney Harry Estep declared Winters, under a three-hour grilling, broke down and confessed that he lured the children to the creek, with candies and ice cream, then murdered them.

"I don't know why I did it, detectives quoted Winters as saying.

"I hit one of them on the head with a rock, and after that my recollection gets hazy."

Immediately after arraignment, the conductor was removed to the Allegheny county jail, under heavy guard, where he will be held until this afternoon when the prosecutor again will grill him.

The alleged slayer was a veteran of the World War, gassed several times, he said.

CARPENTERS WORK FOR $11

Strikers Offer Their Services Under New Wage Scale.

No signs of peace were apparent today in the strike of 125 carpenters which was declared in the East Liverpool district on May 1.

The walkout followed refusal of the contractors to grant the workers' demand for a wage increase from $10 to $11 a day.

Both sides said there was no change in the situation today, twenty-ninth day of the strike.

The carpenters' union, through F. A. Snowden, today announced that union men would work for the public at the rate of $11 a day.

it is too late now to save them. Looking for human beings painfully climbing over ice hummocks near the pole would be like hunting a half-dozen ants in a big hay field. But, at least, the nation might try.

Congressman Fish, from New York, thinks the president out to prosecute Otto H. Kahn, reported in Paris to have said things about American "debt note" unpleasing to the administration. Congressman Fish means well, probably Mr. Kahn also, and in prosecuting Kahn, there is a paragraph in the constitution about free speech that probably would interfere with that.

The American Medical association, holding its 76th annual convention, considers that alcohol is essential in the treatment of diseases and that doctors should be allowed to prescribe for patients as much as they choose.

Many citizens feel the same way but would like to do their own prescribing. But, prohibition enthusiasts sincere and determined have different views. And it won't be easy to change those views.

Messrs. Fall, Doheny and Sinclair have been re-indicted for conspiracy by a grand jury in the District of Columbia. If you find anybody anxious to bet that Mr. Fall will go to jail for selling the people's oil lands and taking secret payment for the sale, take the bet. We don't jail the really big criminals in this country. Little criminals, yes. It's a dangerous country for them if they're caught.

Conductor Confesses

Authorities believe the man was demented when he slew the children. No other motive has presented itself, they declared.

"A mania to kill, born of the war, might have prompted the brutal slayings' Estep said.

Others who viewed Winters were of the opinion that temporary lapse of mentality left the conductor with a lust to slay.

Searching parties found the children's bodies partly submerged in the muddy waters of the creek, 24 hours after they had disappeared mysteriously.

Informed by the proprietor of a confectionery store that a man resembling Winters purchased candy and ice cream there for the boy and girl the day before the conductor was arrested.

At first he denied any knowledge of the slayings and pretended to be grief-stricken to learn of their deaths. However, he admitted buying sweets at the confectionery and giving them to Helen and Alexander.

The long hours of examination by the prosecutor followed, during which Winters is reported to have made part of the confession.

Eager for details of the crime, in an effort to establish the motive, the prosecutor said Winters would be grilled without intermission until he had unravelled the horrible story authorities believe he is withholding.

Strangely enough, the children's father, Charles Sabo, a miner, was not vindictive when he learned of Winters' alleged confession.

Apparently he tried to explain that he harbors no rage toward the World war veteran accused of slaying his son and daughter.

Sabo believes Winters is a paranoiac, he said, his condition probably resulting from his part in many active campaigns during the recent conflict in Europe.

In direct contrast, the mother, Mrs. Anna Sabo, 43, collapsed when she saw the bodies of her children. She hovers hysterically on the verge of complete collapse in their residence which is the property of Mine No. 3, where the father is employed.

And today, passengers on the Pittsburgh-Charleroi interurban line sadly missed the smiling face of their newsboy who for many months had "made all the trains." It was while selling papers on Winters' car that little Alexander met the conductor and came to like him.

HOW MEMORIAL DAY ORIGINATED

The thirtieth day of May, now so generally observed as a Memorial Day, was first so designated in general orders to members of the Grand Army of the Republic in May, 1868, by General John A. Logan, then commander-in-chief of that organiztion, "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late Rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet church yard in the land.

This was not a new idea, for the custom of decorating the graves of the dead has been observed in many lands for ages past, but a number of claims have been made, by or for persons as the first to propose formal services over the graves of the veterans in the northern states.

It is clearly established that before there was any public service of this character in the North, a "Decoration Day" was observed in a number of southern states over the graves of the Confederate dead and it is told that even before the close of the war on one of the islands on the Southern coast occupied for the care and training of the freed people, and where some soldiers had been buried, the teachers gathered their people together in early Springtime and there strewing flowers over the graves.

There were many who then doubted chanted their plaintive hymns while servance in the fear that it would unnecessarily keep alive memories of the wisdom of instituting such an oball should be buried in oblivion. Other objections were made to the expense entailed for music and flowers, which could be more wisely spent on the living.

But, nevertheless, the ceremony grew in sentiment year by year, as has the added number of graves to be decorated, for now the holiday belongs as much to the dead of the World war and Spanish-American war as to the war of the states.

OBLIVION SALL NOT COME

By COLONEL THOMAS J. DICKSON, U. S. Army.

Oblivion shall not come where dauntless valor sleeps!
Not while honor guards and love her deathless vigil keeps.
Immortal Valley Forge and Gettysburg! Where sacred blood
Was caught on Zephyr's wings. Not lost! Born again
On glorious mount—veiled Calvary. Verdun!
If you would your children train in paths of sacred strain
Go where winged victory proudly mounts the granite shaft
And bids the sons of earth to rise; to hope; to aspire!
There with her strong right hand she unfurls our flag.
Golden rays glint the sheen of earth's most distant star
And dubs your blushing sons worthy of their noble sires.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 29. — The stock market was unsettled in the early trading today by heavy selling in the Pan-American oil stocks as a result of the government's victory in the first round of the fight to cancel the naval oil reserve lease at Elkhills.

The stock opened three points lower and heavy trading took place around 76. An immediate recovery set in, however, which carried the stock nearly two points higher and the opening price proved to be the lowest for the period.

Profit taking also appeared in other sections of the market near the opening, but they were more than offset by the vigorous forward movements of Baldwin, Cast Iron Pipe, American Sugar and Havana Electric. Baldwin's rise to 120, up five points from Thursday's low and Havana Eletric's advance to 155 for a gain of eight points and a total rise of 20 points from yesterday's low, were the features of this period.

Havana Electric, a heretofore inactive stock, has been a spectacular performer in the last few weeks, selling on 10 to 15 days delivery indicating transfers of stock from holders in Cuba. The action of Baldwin directors in declaring the regular semi annual dividend of 3½ per cent stimulated buying in this stock and drove the shorts to cover.

A number of the railroad and motor stocks started a new rally, and sold from one to two points higher. Reading was the leader in the early trading, but Southern Railway forged to the front near the end of the first hour and sold up to 94⅝ for a gain of more than two points.

ALLAY FEAR FOR AMUNDSEN PARTY AS POLAR ZONE WEATHER IS O. K.

Explorer Left Instructions That no Search Should be Instituted for at Least 14 days.

OSLO, May 29.—Continued fair weather in the Polar zone and the knowledge that Captain Raold Amundsen expected to make more extensive observations at the Pole than was first believed, served to allay today the fears that have been expressed as to his safety.

Latest dispatches from Spitzbergen, where Amundsen and his companions hopped off on their daring aerial dash to the Pole last Thursday, said members of his base party did not favor starting any search for the missing explorer until at least two weeks have elapsed.

Amundsen's instructions, according to Lieutenant Horgan, a member of the party still at Spitzbergen, were that if he was not heard from for 14 days, the steamer Hobby was to go eastward and the steamer Farm, westward, along the ice barrier. If a six weeks' search produced no result, the ships were to return on the presumption that Amundsen was directing his course to Cape Columbia, approximately 250 miles north of Greenland.

These instructions indicated that Amundsen started out on his spectacular dash with the firm intention of making observations that would require considerable time.

Vote 269 Counts Against Furniture, Refrigerator Firms

CHICAGO, May 29.—Charging price fixing and curtailing of production in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, 269 indictments were returned in federal court today against furniture and refrigerator manufacturers all over the country. Their annual business today $600,000,000.

The investigation of the alleged trust started several months ago and agents from the department of justice have gathered evidence from coast to coast. Their report to Washington headquarters caused the department to send two special assistant attorneys general to Chicago. Roger Shale, who was instrumental in breaking up the cement trust, the plumbing and terra cotta trusts in New York, assumed charge of the Chicago headquarters.

This is said to be the biggest case, in the number of indictments, that the government has prosecuted since the Sherman law became effective.

had forced her attacker to choke her to prevent her outcries being heard by the mother, who was waiting for her daughter's return in the home nearby.

A pair of heavy, worn gloves, such as are worn by truck men, was the only find which police believed might serve as a clue to the girl's assailant.

The gloves were being closely examined by finger print experts.

No outcries were heard by the families living on either side of the vacant lot where, strangely enough, there was a similar crime several years ago. That other time Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald was the victim. A Negro was afterward captured and convicted, and paid the penalty in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison.

Because of memories of this other crime, heightened considerably by the sparsely settled and lonely character of the neighborhood, last night's victim had been many times warned against her practice of returning home late last nigt alone.

But she was a modern girl, and had laughted at the warnings.

CARPENTERS WORK FOR $11

Strikers Offer Their Services Under New Wage Scale.

No signs of peace were apparent today in the strike of 125 carpenters which was declared in the East Liverpool district on May 1.

The walkout followed refusal of the contractors to grant the workers' demand for a wage increase from $10 to $11 a day.

Both sides said there was no change in the situation today, twenty-ninth day of the strike.

The carpenters' union, through F. A. Snowden, today announced that union men would work for the public at the rate of $11 a day.

it is too late now to save them. Looking for human beings painfully climbing over ice hummocks near the pole would be like hunting a half-dozen ants in a big hay field. But, at least, the nation might try.

Congressman Fish, from New York, thinks the president out to prosecute Otto H. Kahn, reported in Paris to have said things about American "debt note" unpleasing to the administration. Congressman Fish means well, probably Mr. Kahn also, and in prosecuting Kahn, there is a paragraph in the constitution about free speech that probably would interfere with that.

The American Medical association, holding its 76th annual convention, considers that alcohol is essential in the treatment of diseases and that doctors should be allowed to prescribe for patients as much as they choose.

Many citizens feel the same way but would like to do their own prescribing. But, prohibition enthusiasts sincere and determined have different views. And it won't be easy to change those views.

Messrs. Fall, Doheny and Sinclair have been re-indicted for conspiracy by a grand jury in the District of Columbia. If you find anybody anxious to bet that Mr. Fall will go to jail for selling the people's oil lands and taking secret payment for the sale, take the bet. We don't jail the really big criminals in this country. Little criminals, yes. It's a dangerous country for them if they're caught.

Conductor Confesses

Authorities believe the man was demented when he slew the children. No other motive has presented itself, they declared.

"A mania to kill, born of the war, might have prompted the brutal slayings' Estep said.

Others who viewed Winters were of the opinion that temporary lapse of mentality left the conductor with a lust to slay.

Searching parties found the children's bodies partly submerged in the muddy waters of the creek, 24 hours after they had disappeared mysteriously.

Informed by the proprietor of a confectionery store that a man resembling Winters purchased candy and ice cream there for the boy and girl the day before the conductor was arrested.

At first he denied any knowledge of the slayings and pretended to be grief-stricken to learn of their deaths. However, he admitted buying sweets at the confectionery and giving them to Helen and Alexander.

The long hours of examination by the prosecutor followed, during which Winters is reported to have made part of the confession.

Eager for details of the crime, in an effort to establish the motive, the prosecutor said Winters would be grilled without intermission until he had unravelled the horrible story authorities believe he is withholding.

Strangely enough, the children's father, Charles Sabo, a miner, was not vindictive when he learned of Winters' alleged confession.

Apparently he tried to explain that he harbors no rage toward the World war veteran accused of slaying his son and daughter.

Sabo believes Winters is a paranoiac, he said, his condition probably resulting from his part in many active campaigns during the recent conflict in Europe.

In direct contrast, the mother, Mrs. Anna Sabo, 43, collapsed when she saw the bodies of her children. She hovers hysterically on the verge of complete collapse in their residence which is the property of Mine No. 3, where the father is employed.

And today, passengers on the Pittsburgh-Charleroi interurban line sadly missed the smiling face of their newsboy who for many months had "made all the trains." It was while selling papers on Winters' car that little Alexander met the conductor and came to like him.

HOW MEMORIAL DAY ORIGINATED

The thirtieth day of May, now so generally observed as a Memorial Day, was first so designated in general orders to members of the Grand Army of the Republic in May, 1868, by General John A. Logan, then commander-in-chief of that organizttion, "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late Rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet church yard in the land.

This was not a new idea, for the custom of decorating the graves of the dead has been observed in many lands for ages past, but a number of claims have been made, by or for persons as the first to propose formal services over the graves of the veterans in the northern states.

It is clearly established that before there was any public service of this character in the North, a "Decoration Day" was observed in a number of southern states over the graves of the Confederate dead and it is told that even before the close of the war on one of the islands on the Southern coast occupied for the care and training of the freed people, and where some soldiers had been buried, the teachers gathered their people together in early Springtime and there strewing flowers over the graves.

There were many who then doubted chanted their plaintive hymns while servance in the fear that it would unnecessarily keep alive memories of the wisdom of instituting such an oball should be buried in oblivion. Other objections were made to the expense entailed for music and flowers, which could be more wisely spent on the living.

But, nevertheless, the ceremony grew in sentiment year by year, as has the added number of graves to be decorated, for now the holiday belongs as much to the dead of the World war and Spanish-American war as to the war of the states.

OBLIVION SALL NOT COME

By COLONEL THOMAS J. DICKSON, U. S. Army.

Oblivion shall not come where dauntless valor sleeps!
Not while honor guards and love her deathless vigil keeps.
Immortal Valley Forge and Gettysburg! Where sacred blood
Was caught on Zephyr's wings. Not lost! Born again
On glorious mount—veiled Calvary. Verdun!
If you would your children train in paths of sacred strain
Go where winged victory proudly mounts the granite shaft
And bids the sons of earth to rise; to hope; to aspire!
There with her strong right hand she unfurls our flag.
Golden rays glint the sheen of earth's most distant star
And dubs your blushing sons worthy of their noble sires.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 29. — The stock market was unsettled in the early trading today by heavy selling in the Pan-American oil stocks as a result of the government's victory in the first round of the fight to cancel the naval oil reserve lease at Elkhills.

The stock opened three points lower and heavy trading took place around 76. An immediate recovery set in, however, which carried the stock nearly two points higher and the opening price proved to be the lowest for the period.

Profit taking also appeared in other sections of the market near the opening, but they were more than offset by the vigorous forward movements of Baldwin, Cast Iron Pipe, American Sugar and Havana Electric. Baldwin's rise to 120, up five points from Thursday's low and Havana Eletric's advance to 155 for a gain of eight points and a total rise of 20 points from yesterday's low, were the features of this period.

Havana Electric, a heretofore inactive stock, has been a spectacular performer in the last few weeks, selling on 10 to 15 days delivery indicating transfers of stock from holders in Cuba. The action of Baldwin directors in declaring the regular semi annual dividend of 3½ per cent stimulated buying in this stock and drove the shorts to cover.

A number of the railroad and motor stocks started a new rally, and sold from one to two points higher. Reading was the leader in the early trading, but Southern Railway forged to the front near the end of the first hour and sold up to 94⅞ for a gain of more than two points.

No outcries were heard by the families living on either side of the vacant lot where, strangely enough, there was a similar crime several years ago. That other time Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald was the victim. A Negro was afterward captured and convicted, and paid the penalty in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison.

Because of memories of this other crime, heightened considerably by the sparsely settled and lonely character of the neighborhood, last night's victim had been many times warned against her practice of returning home late last nigt alone.

But she was a modern girl, and had laughted at the warnings.

"Where North Begins" Opens Three-day Run Monday.

Adventurers, soldiers of fortune, fugitives from justice, and gold hunters in search of their respective goals—all the motley and dregs of civilization beside its finest representatives—pass and repass in the tense drama of the northland, "Where the North Begins," scheduled for a three-day run at the Ceramic theatre commencing Monday.

This Warner Brothers classic of the screen was filmed in northern California, in a wild region rarely visited by mortals. To the making of it was brought a cast of players — all of whome are acquainted with the rude life of frontier men and women; Clairs Adams, called the gamest actress in the movies, a skilled horsewoman; Walter McGrail, who has prospected in Alaska; Fred Huntley, who has knocked all over the world and had a life of rich adventure; Pat Hartigan, Myrtle Owen and Charles Stevens.

"Where the North Begins" is the story of the fight for a girl's hand, fought to the bitter end and without mincing, by the two protagonists, Shad Galloway, the tyrranical factor of a Hudson Bay trading post, and Gabriel Dupre, the French-Canadian trapper who is her betrothed.

The Two-Fold Festival

On Memorial Day we are supposed to remember our war dead. That grows difficult in a season and a land where people live rapidly and forget quickly. This day, despite its associations, hase become largely a festival of pleasure.

No fault need be found with a reasonable amount of cheerful recreation on such a day. It is the only holiday we have at this time of year. So it has to serve the double purpose of a spring festival and a festival of sorrow. If the former does not run away with the latter, it is all right.

The essential thing, if it is to be really a day of memorial for those who have died for their country, is to keep thoughts of them and their sacrifice as a serious background of our thinking. Gloom is futile. But there should be enough solemnity to remind light-minded folk of the reason for this day, and there should be forward looks and constructive thinking lest the future bring more reason for sadness than exists already.

Remembering these dead inevitably brings memories of war and hopes of peace. And the occasion would be almost joyful if it could be felt now that the big sacrifices were over—that the uniformed dead have won peace for the living, as they desired. But it is hard to escape a feeling that the dead have been cheated somehow. The world, seven years after the war that was to end war, is not at peace.

True, there are no big wars waging; but the world is full of armies and navies and air fleets, and multifarious preparations for attack and defense. There is still lacking the spirit of peace, without which all else is vain.

A calm thinking over of the situation, and a deliberate "will to peace" on the part of the leading nation in the world, should help a little.

"Learn to Swim Campaign"

June 1-6 will be "Learn to Swim Week" at the Y. M. C. A.

Determined to teach the art to all East Liverpool boys more than 10 years of age, T. F. Scheffer, physical director; Harvey Price, boys' work director, and expert swimmers from the boys' division, will enroll all applicarts in the campaign which opens Monday.

Hundreds of Ceramic City residents are among the 40,000,000 Americans who cannot swim. Both for pleasure and safety, everyone who possibly can should master the art.

Lack of confidence is the chief reason for non-swimmers, Y. M. C. A. officials say. There is no reason why any normal person should have an abnormal fear of the water. With the introduction of new methods of teaching, combined with the realization of the danger of not knowing how to keep afloat in the water, the ratio of three non-swimmers to one swimmer is rapidly changing.

The easiest time to learn to swim, experts say, is between the ages of 9 and 14 when co-ordination comes with little effort and when confidence is most easily acquired. A child should learn to swim as early as possible.

Irrespective of your age, everyone should acquire enough knowledge to give them a feeling of safety on a fishing trip or when a foolish friend rocks the boat.

Boys, if you cannot swim, enroll in the Y. M. C. A. campaign. The instruction is free.

Where Americans Fail

"The poorest thing that Americans do is the government of their big cities," says a leading city manager. "The administration of a great city is a business worthy of high business and technical ability, and cannot succeed with less. The administration of cities is still left largely to mere chance. The principal qualification for almost any city office is still the ability to get and hold it. Most of the defects of local government are due to the fact that they are so largely dominated by men chosen on purely personal, local, selfish or sentimental grounds."

True enough—though not so true as it was a few years ago. "The shame of the cities" is not what it used to be. The shame has faded, in most cases, to mere folly or bad judgment. Hundreds of cities have adopted the manager plan, which merely regards the city as a big business corporation and aims to choose and uphold an executive on the same principles applied in private corporations. It is a device for divorcing business from partisan politics and preferring ability to mere popularity.

The idea unquestionably is sound. It no longer needs much defense, although it has not been uniformly successful. Where city managership has failed, it has failed usually because the divorce between public business and politics was not complete enough, or because the people, having indulged in a momentary spasm of reform, did not follow it up and see that proper men were chosen and managers were left free to manage.

A highly intelligent and public-spirited community can make almost any governmental system work. A city that cannot get good government out of modern city management would probably not get it under any plan.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 29.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: The crowds that clot in front of the Palace theater. Hair line togs. And hats with a Wales dip. Straw blondes who chew gum and hang to coat lapels as they talk. Shorty, Broadway's famous messenger.

Trim soft shoe dancers. Hasbeens who talk of other days. Split-week small timers who advertise: "Double in brass and have Tuxedo." Gate crashers and wily ticket specs. All fiction characters fleshed. And bloodhounds for the spotlight.

The bored looking girls in the movie ticket cages. The milliner who has a Bokhara prayer rug in the window for her lap dog. John McGraw talking to a poet. The street gamins who fish for lost coins in subway gratings. And the racing form hawker with the sophisticated sparkle of a Menjou.

A cigar store's window warning: "Our clerks are armed for holdup men!" Dejected looking men with determined women. And the affable cop at Fortieth and Broadway. Whatever became of Wilson Mizner? Mildewed cafes reeking with fumes of stale cabbage, garlic and burnt fat.

Paul Whiteman and his mystical smile. And oozing opulence. Italian shoe shine parlor proprietors with panches, diamond rings and oiled hair. The owls on the old Herald building. Something you can't forget—like a stitch in the side.

The leathery faced old magic shop proprietor on Thirty-fourth street Who sniffs at patrons with distrust. Side street tea rooms filling up with patrons from the big hotels. Hendrick Van Loon and his monocle. The tiny flower shop near the Martinique.

A bird cage in a limousine. And the mechanical one cent shoe shiners. Wonder who'll pay for my lunch today? Rosy cheeked loft workers parading to the avenue. The noon-day Yiddish extras. The stroll ends.

Near the Flatiron building—or did you know the official name is the Fuller building?—a little cubby hole fruit merchant was shining his apples and oranges. Three street rowdies descended on him and filled their pockets. No doubt business had been bad and tears ran down his cheeks at his fresh troubles.

"Soon I go back to it," he wailed. "Everybody here, they got a craze, they got a craze!" This is not much of a story after reading it, but it gave a country boy a lump in the throat.

About my only visits to drug stores is when I am in the market for a stamp. There is one on Twenty-third street, however, where I met my Waterloo. I sauntered in and asked where I might purchase a stamp.

"They usually keep them at the postoffice," said the cashier who did not even look up from his copy of hot confessions.

There is no more reason why a drug store should go to the annoyance of selling stamps than a high-class jewelry establishment. Yet I believe it pays. I tackled another drug store anda sale was promptly and courteously made. Going out I passed a book counter and purchased three volumes. Also a rubber ball for my dog.

My friend Walter Kingsley, who is an expert in vaudeville hokum as well as the rarer side of the art, could perhaps enlighten us, but it is just a suspicion of mine that one of the oldest of tricks for a vaudeville "flop" to win applause is this. At the end of the act the lesser players walk across the stage for a hand, gradually working up to the star himself or herself. It is a teasing sort of business, but I have never seen it fail to win the thunderous echo whereas otherwise there would be the business of reaching for hats.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Another Golf Prodigy.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—When the golfing stars of this country and England gather on the Oakmont course at Pittsburgh the last week in August to decide the United States amateur championship for 1925, the picturesque and most interesting figure will be a Washington prep school lad of 18 years. The famous Columbia Country club of this city, where the national open was played in 1921, has produced a golf prodigy to rival Bobby Jones, the Georgia marvel, who has been the most spectacular performer in national golf contests for almost a decade and who now wears the amateur championship crown.

Roland Mackenzie, who will be Washington's contender for stellar honors at Pittsburgh, has been playing golf for only four years, but he has demonstrated that he has the ability and the temperament to make a successful bid for the championship. He may not come through this year, but his is a game that sooner or later will not be denied. Freddie MacLeod, the well known local professional and onti-time national open champion, who has been Roland's instructor, likes his pupil's chances, and MacLeod knows more about golf than a lot of people who have been writing books on the subject.

Young Mackenzie had a meteoric flash in the golfing firmament in last year's national amateur contest, which he entered practically unknown and not even rated as a possible contender by the experts who follow the big tournaments. He played only one match, after qualifying handily, but that was one to be remembered.

His opponent was Von Elm, the western star, and it was not thought that Mackenzie had so much as a look-in. This pre-view of his chances was apparently confirmed by the early part of the match, for after playing 21 holes of the 36 Roland was 8 down. With only 15 more holes to play it did not seem possible that the Washington youth would make even a creditable showing, but he did not seem to know when he was beaten and staged a most remarkable comeback.

He began reeling off pars and better and before Von Elm realized what was happening the match was on practically even terms. Word flashed over the course that a feature contest was being waged by two players whom the gallery had ignored and for the last few holes Roland and his more seasoned adversary had a large following of excited spectators.

Ended on 37th Green.

The match that might have ended with Von Elm the victor by a wide margin was finnally squared and it was necessary to play an extra hole. Mackenzie lost on the thirty-seventh green, but even in defeat he had put up the most spectacular performance of the tournament and had made himself somebody instead of an unknown in the world of golf.

Von Elm proved to be the player who was to battle with Bobby Jones in the finals, when the Georgia player came into the glory for which he had been contending since he was 14 years of age, and the merest caprice of fate might have given Mackenzie a real chance at the big prize in his first national contest. If Roland had defeated Von Elm he might easily have been the one to live through to the finals, and he might have given Jones more of a fight than Von Elm was able to put up.

Changed conditions governing the national amateur this year make prophecy and speculation altogether idle. Only 16 players are to qualify in the medal play and this means that a single missed shot, a moment's carelessness, or the slightest break of bad luck, can eliminate any of the veterans of the big tournaments, to say nothing of what may happen to the youngsters.

All the contestants will be under a terrific strain in the qualifying round. It was bad enough when the players with the 32 best scores qualified for the match play, but when each man realizes that he must be one of the 16 best, the test becomes one to try the stoutest heart and the soundest physical and nervous constitution. There will be perhaps 200 contenders, every one of whom is capable of shooting par golf, or better, and many of whom may show a flash of phenomenal from and skill. Those who survive the ordeal must be good. More than that, they must be lucky. There are good and bad breaks in almost every round of golf, and to be one of the select 16 at Oakmont a player will need a horseshoe at every stage of the qualification.

There has been much criticism of the action of the governing committee of the United States Golf association with respect to the qualifying for the national amateur. Heretofore the amateur event has been essentially a test of proficiency at match play, while the professional and open tour-

The Two-Fold Festival

On Memorial Day we are supposed to remember our war dead. That grows difficult in a season and a land where people live rapidly and forget quickly. This day, despite its associations, hase become largely a festival of pleasure.

No fault need be found with a reasonable amount of cheerful recreation on such a day. It is the only holiday we have at this time of year. So it has to serve the double purpose of a spring festival and a festival of sorrow. If the former does not run away with the latter, it is all right.

The essential thing, if it is to be really a day of memorial for those who have died for their country, is to keep thoughts of them and their sacrifice as a serious background of our thinking. Gloom is futile. But there should be enough solemnity to remind light-minded folk of the reason for this day, and there should be forward looks and constructive thinking lest the future bring more reason for sadness than exists already.

Remembering these dead inevitably brings memories of war and hopes of peace. And the occasion would be almost joyful if it could be felt now that the big sacrifices were over—that the uniformed dead have won peace for the living, as they desired. But it is hard to escape a feeling that the dead have been cheated somehow. The world, seven years after the war that was to end war, is not at peace.

True, there are no big wars waging; but the world is full of armies and navies and air fleets, and multifarious preparations for attack and defense. There is still lacking the spirit of peace, without which all else is vain.

A calm thinking over of the situation, and a deliberate "will to peace" on the part of the leading nation in the world, should help a little.

Improvement started after taking the first bottle of Ka-di-ok the wonderful herbal stomach tonic and system builder in Mr. Van Gordner's own words: "Ka-di-ok is wonderful; although I have taken but one bottle, I eat and sleep good; pains have left me, no more dizziness, and no gas on the stomach. I intend to continue taking it for a while. It is a wonderful tonic."

Thousands of others have said likewise. The genuineness of these statements can not be impeached; all are from substantial citizens, who speak truth, and it behooves others suffering from those ailments for which Ka-di-ok is recommended to get a bottle at once and start on the road to health.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathews Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 W. 6th street.

Are You One of the 98%?

Recently the Lydia E. Pingham Medicine Co., of Lynn, Mass., sent out over one hundred thousand questionnaires to women who had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, asking if they had been helped by its use. From the replies received 98 per cent of women, from all walks of life, answered in the affirmative, telling how they had been relieved from the various ailments for which they had taken it. Isn't this a wonderful recommendation for the efficiency of this old-fashioned root and herb medicine.

ALL OF HIS ILL HEALTH WAS DUE TO CATARRH

Indigestion, Lack of Appetite, Bloating Dyspepsia and Constipation Symptoms

World's Tonic Cleaned Up the Membranes of His Head and Stomach — Now Back on the Job.

"I did not realize all my ill-health for the last five years was due to nothing but Catarrh", said Mr. Mack Turner, 1505 Main St., Wellsville in a recent talk with the Worlds Tonic druggist.

"I had taken many kinds of stomach medicines, thinking my trouble was due to indigestion, but after using two bottles of World's Tonic I feel entirely well for the first time in five years. I am now positive I had Catarrh of the stomach and head. After eating, gas formed in the stomach and bowels. At this time I would bloat so I had to unbotton my clothing, and at times was just able to breathe. I always had a burning sensation, and I often spit up handsful of mucus. I could feel the mucus drip from my head into my throat. Each morning I was drowsy and my head felt full and heavy. At times I was not able to breathe through my nostrils. My wife said I slept with my mouth open and my breathing was heavy. Constipation attacked me about four years ago and I had to use some kind of pills or salts every few days, but it is different now. Most all those bad feelings are gone and I am better off from a health standpoint than in years. I am now on my job every day. World's Tonic has certainly done wonders for me."

Many cases of general ill-health are due to nothing more or less than Catarrh. As this disease progresses the discharges from the inflamation in the throat become offensive and very posionous. A great deal of this matter is swallowed especially during sleeping, and enters the stomach. There follows all kinds of stomach disorders, general weakness, and the health in general declines rapidly. A person so suffering needs World's Tonic, which is a systemic treatment for Catarrh, and banishes it from the system. Get it at Carnahan's also Brannan's, Wellsville, or any reliable druggist.

50,000,000 Blosoms Will Cover Graves Of America's Dead

America's dead will sleep this Memorial Day beneath the richest tribute this nation ever has offered to a sentiment—50,000,000 individual blossoms, representing virtually every variety of flower.

The fortune thus scattered upon the nation's graves, it is estimated, will total $5,000,000.

These figures were obtained in a national survey just completed by the National Memorial Day Association.

50,000,000 Blosoms Will Cover Graves Of America's Dead

America's dead will sleep this Memorial Day beneath the richest tribute this nation ever has offered to a sentiment—50,000,000 individual blossoms, representing virtually every variety of flower.

The fortune thus scattered upon the nation's graves, it is estimated, will total $5,000,000.

These figures were obtained in a national survey just completed by the National Memorial Day Association.

Gift With Conditions.

BUCYRUS, May.—The deed whereby Daniel Aumiller gives this city 30 acres of land for park purposes provides the land shall revert to the original owner if at any time it is not used for park purposes. The deed also, stipulates that there shall be no "Sunday desecration and no special privileges shall be permitted in, or upon, the property." City council has deferred action on the proposal that the deed be accepted until a committee could call upon Aumiller and find out what his interpretation of "Sunday desecration' is.

Presence of ethylene, now widely used as an anesthetic, in the air, puts blooming carnations to "sleep" for 12 hours without killing them, and colors green citrus fruits yellow.

ALL OF HIS ILL HEALTH WAS DUE TO CATARRH

Indigestion, Lack of Appetite, Bloating Dyspepsia and Constipation Symptoms

World's Tonic Cleaned Up the Membranes of His Head and Stomach — Now Back on the Job.

"I did not realize all my ill-health for the last five years was due to nothing but Catarrh", said Mr. Mack Turner, 1505 Main St., Wellsville in a recent talk with the Worlds Tonic druggist.

"I had taken many kinds of stomach medicines, thinking my trouble was due to indigestion, but after using two bottles of World's Tonic I feel entirely well for the first time in five years. I am now positive I had Catarrh of the stomach and head. After eating, gas formed in the stomach and bowels. At this time I would bloat so I had to unbotton my clothing, and at times was just able to breathe. I always had a burning sensation, and I often spit up handsful of mucus. I could feel the mucus drip from my head into my throat. Each morning I was drowsy and my head felt full and heavy. At times I was not able to breathe through my nostrils. My wife said I slept with my mouth open and my breathing was heavy. Constipation attacked me about four years ago and I had to use some kind of pills or salts every few days, but it is different now. Most all those bad feelings are gone and I am better off from a health standpoint than in years. I am now on my job every day. World's Tonic has certainly done wonders for me."

Many cases of general ill-health are due to nothing more or less than Catarrh. As this disease progresses the discharges from the inflamation in the throat become offensive and very posionous. A great deal of this matter is swallowed especially during sleeping, and enters the stomach. There follows all kinds of stomach disorders, general weakness, and the health in general declines rapidly. A person so suffering needs World's Tonic, which is a systemic treatment for Catarrh, and banishes it from the system. Get it at Carnahan's also Brannan's, Wellsville, or any reliable druggist.

SPECIAL LEVIES MUST BE PAID

County Commissioners Instruct Treasurer to Take Action.

A resolution has been passed by the county commissioners instructing County Treasurer Jo Pike, beginning December next, to collect special assessments at the same time December and June taxes are paid. The special assessments are to be placed against all properties on the duplicate where such assessments belong, instead of the taxes being kept in one duplicate and the special assessments in another record book.

As a result of this resolution, all city auditors and others having in charge records of special assessments, have been notified to immediately forward, either a correct record of all properties in their taxing district against which special assessments have been levied, or to send a representative to Lisbon to search the records for such properties against which special assessments remain unpaid.

It is estimated that between $250,000 and $500,000 in special assessments remain outstanding and unpaid in this county at this time. No special effort has been put forth to collect these assessments in past years. The old rule of keeping special assessments allied with the tax duplicate was abandoned some years ago, and because of this reason there has been laxity in collecting these charges.

It is admitted by those in authority that where such special street, sewer, and water assessments remain unpaid, and properties sold and resold in the mean time, that titles to many properties are at this time clouded, unless it is specified in deeds that assessments are to be paid by the purchasers of such property.

For many years the bonds sold to pay for street, sewer and water improvements and extensions have been paid from the interest and sinking fund, whereas the bonds were sold in the first place in anticipation of the collection of the special assessments.

The record will show that over $40,000 in unpaid special assessments will be charged up against properties in East Liverpool, and that $20,000 or more is due to be paid in Salem, with corresponding amounts in other communities.

The claim of the county commissioners is, that after these assessments are collected, taxing districts will have additional funds to take care of their obligations, and that all such communities will be in better shape to clear many old bond issues quickly.

The first game will begin at 10:30 in the morning, and the afternoon game will be called at 3 o'clock following the Memorial day exercises. Bossel and Nelson will be the battery for the morning game and Grafton and Nelson in the afternoon. Harry Kirk will umpire both games.

Marriage Licenses.

A marriage license has been issued to William Corrigan, a train dispatcher residing at Canton, and Miss Mary Leonard, a registered nurse residing at Lectonia, but a native of Youngstown. They were married in the office of Probate Judge Lodge Riddle by a justice of the peace.

Thomas C. Fisher, an oil driller, and Miss Hazel Rebecca Birch, both of East Liverpool, but formerly of St. Clair township, have been granted a marriage license and are to be married by the Rev. D. W. MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, East Liverpool. Miss Birch has been employed as a teacher.

Man Seeks Divorce.

Claiming that his wife has been absent from his home for more than three years, and that he does not know her whereabouts, Jesse E. Males, through his counsel, Cochran and Crawford of East Liverpool, has filed a petition in common pleas court seeking a divorce from Ruth Esther Males.

The couple were married in Wheeling June 28, 1920, and the petition relates that the defendant left her home without cause.

Case Appealed.

In an action filed in the court of Justice P. V. Mackall of East Liverpool, John C. Hughes claimed that as a result of his car being hit on May 2 last by one being driven by Ralph Boswell was damaged to the extent of $250.

The court rendered a judgment against Boswell for $156.71, and now Boswell has taken an appeal to common pleas court, having posted $400 as an appeal bond. The plaintiff in this action is represented by Cochran and Crawford, while Brokaw and Brokaw represent the defendant.

Expect Many Bids.

Probably 10 bids will be filed with the county commissioners June 8 when the contract is to be awarded for the grading and surfacing of the North Georgetown-Valley road, and over a new route that has been established. It has been estimated that this job will cost $27,992.48.

Checking Records.

Representatives of the state bureau of inspection have been engaged during the last week in checking the records of the Fairmount Children's home at Alliance. The task will continue into next week.

NEWS FROM TOWNS IN TRI-STATE DISTRICT

LISBON

M. K. Zimerman, West Park Ave. Phone 319-R. Lisbon, O.

SPECIAL LEVIES MUST BE PAID

County Commissioners Instruct Treasurer to Take Action.

A resolution has been passed by the county commissioners instructing County Treasurer Jo Pike, beginning December next, to collect special assessments at the same time December and June taxes are paid. The special assessments are to be placed against all properties on the duplicate where such assessments belong, instead of the taxes being kept in one duplicate and the special assessments in another record book.

As a result of this resolution, all city auditors and others having in charge records of special assessments, have been notified to immediately forward, either a correct record of all properties in their taxing district against which special assessments have been levied, or to send a representative to Lisbon to search the records for such properties against which special assessments remain unpaid.

It is estimated that between $250,000 and $500,000 in special assessments remain outstanding and unpaid in this county at this time. No special effort has been put forth to collect these assessments in past years. The old rule of keeping special assessments allied with the tax duplicate was abandoned some years ago, and because of this reason there has been laxity in collecting these charges.

It is admitted by those in authority that where such special street, sewer, and water assessments remain unpaid, and properties sold and resold in the mean time, that titles to many properties are at this time clouded, unless it is specified in deeds that assessments are to be paid by the purchasers of such property.

For many years the bonds sold to pay for street, sewer and water improvements and extensions have been paid from the interest and sinking fund, whereas the bonds were sold in the first place in anticipation of the collection of the special assessments.

The record will show that over $40,000 in unpaid special assessments will be charged up against properties in East Liverpool, and that $20,000 or more is due to be paid in Salem, with corresponding amounts in other communities.

The claim of the county commissioners is, that after these assessments are collected, taxing districts will have additional funds to take care of their obligations, and that all such communities will be in better shape to clear many old bond issues quickly.

The first game will begin at 10:30 in the morning, and the afternoon game will be called at 3 o'clock following the Memorial day exercises. Bossel and Nelson will be the battery for the morning game and Grafton and Nelson in the afternoon. Harry Kirk will umpire both games.

Marriage Licenses.

A marriage license has been issued to William Corrigan, a train dispatcher residing at Canton, and Miss Mary Leonard, a registered nurse residing at Lectonia, but a native of Youngstown. They were married in the office of Probate Judge Lodge Riddle by a justice of the peace.

Thomas C. Fisher, an oil driller, and Miss Hazel Rebecca Birch, both of East Liverpool, but formerly of St. Clair township, have been granted a marriage license and are to be married by the Rev. D. W. MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, East Liverpool. Miss Birch has been employed as a teacher.

Man Seeks Divorce.

Claiming that his wife has been absent from his home for more than three years, and that he does not know her whereabouts, Jesse E. Males, through his counsel, Cochran and Crawford of East Liverpool, has filed a petition in common pleas court seeking a divorce from Ruth Esther Males.

The couple were married in Wheeling June 28, 1920, and the petition relates that the defendant left her home without cause.

Case Appealed.

In an action filed in the court of Justice P. V. Mackall of East Liverpool, John C. Hughes claimed that as a result of his car being hit on May 2 last by one being driven by Ralph Boswell was damaged to the extent of $250.

The court rendered a judgment against Boswell for $156.71, and now Boswell has taken an appeal to common pleas court, having posted $400 as an appeal bond. The plaintiff in this action is represented by Cochran and Crawford, while Brokaw and Brokaw represent the defendant.

Expect Many Bids.

Probably 10 bids will be filed with the county commissioners June 8 when the contract is to be awarded for the grading and surfacing of the North Georgetown-Valley road; and over a new route that has been established. It has been estimated that this job will cost $27,992.48.

Checking Records.

Representatives of the state bureau of inspection have been engaged during the last week in checking the records of the Fairmount Children's home at Alliance. The task will continue into next week.

EASTERN FIELD IN FINAL TEST

Gallery Watches Rival Stars in Clash for Medal.

By Robert E. Harlow.

LIDO COUNTRY CLUB, LONG BEACH, N. J., May 29.—Headed by MacDonald Smith and Johnny Farrell, who established a new course record of 70 on each of the first days, the field of survivors entered upon its first test this morning in the eastern qualifying round of the national open golf championship. A break in the sequence of good weather greeted the early birds leaving the first tee, storm clouds hovering on the horizon.

"Mac" Smith, Hagen, Barnes, Armour, Kirkwood, McLeod and Ouimet were among the stars who starred in the morning field.

Farrell, Bobby Jones, Diegel, Sarazen, Mike Brady and Angel de la Torre of Spain were scheduled to complete their 36-hole journey this afternoon. Only the 58 best scores and ties will be permitted to take part in the championship proper at Worcester, Mass.

The crowd was keyed up to concert pitch over the battle between Smith, Jones, Farrell and Hagen for the medal.

The card named Jones with Hazen, the gallery focus of the day; Farrell and Diegel, and Brady and Willie Macfarlane.

Athletics Beat Nats Twice.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—Connie Mack's Athletics took both ends of a double header with Washington and thereby increased their lead on first place to three full games. The first game was won by an 11 to 3 count, the second by a score of 9 to 4.

The Nat hurlers were punished severely in both games and proved wholly unable to halt the attack of the league leaders.

Rock Crushing Slugger Meets Wily, Clever Boxer

By George Barry.

NEW YORK, May 29.—A wily, clever boxer against a rock crushing slugger.

Ever since David licked Goliath, the experts have differed violently in a case of this kind, and today proved no exception. Seldom have the critics been more markedly at variance than they were today over Paul Berlenbach's changes of lifting the light-heavyweight crowd from Mike McTigue in their 15-round battle in Yankee stadium tonight.

Mike is the clever one. There are plenty who say that Mike is champion today because he is clever and not because he is a fighter, and it is this school of thought that has established the challenger, "Punch 'Em Paul," a favorite to win. It is one of few times in pugilistic history that a challenger has entered the ring a favorite over the champion.

But Berlenbach's margin of favoritism was not large, despite his popularity, and Mike's unpopularity with the Gotham boxing public.

Ten to nine and six to five does not indicate any overwhelming favoritism and there was plenty of money along Broadway that McTigue's admittedly superior cleverness would keep him out of harm's way for 15 rounds. The McTigue backers are basing their hopes on a verdict for the champion on points.

Indications today pointed to a capacity house. The show is for the milk fund benefit, insuring the presence, not only of the ordinary fight crowd, but of society folk generally.

Tex Rickard, who is promoting the show, announced today the advance sale already has passed the $125,000 mark, and with the last minute scramble that always develops for seats, the affair is expected to gross around $200,000.

Berlenbach's popularity is based almost entirely upon his slugging proclivities. In the 27 bouts he has engaged in since entering the fight game, he has scored 21 knockouts, and some of them were what Broadway calls "tough babies."

On the other hand, McTigue has fought but seven times since he took the title from Battling Siki, who won it from Georges Carpentier, and of that lucky number he has scored two knockouts of setups. He took his own referee to Georgia with him on one occasion to get a verdict over Young Stribling, the Georgia schoolboy.

There will be no marked difference in the weight of the men. Both were reported today well under the 157-pound light heavyweight limit.

Faber Weakens in Ninth.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Red Faber weakened in the ninth inning when Manager Cobb, of Detroit, injected his pinch hitter into the game and overtook Chicago after the locals had scored four runs on Kamm's home run with the bases filled in the eighth inning.

Chicago tied the count in their half of the ninth, but Ted Lyons, who relieved Faber, was unsteady in the tenth inning and started the visitors otctory with a wild throw to second. Bunched hits followed this, and Detroit won 7 to 5.

Cost of the proposed water power plan to supply Dublin with electricity is estimated at $35,000,000.

MELHORN LEADS WESTERN FIELD

CHICAGO, May 29.—With a card of 137 for the two days' play, William (Wild Bill) Mehlhorn led the field in the qualifying tests for the national open championship in the east next week. Dave Robertson of Detroit was second with 143. Others who qualified were Alex Cunningham, Toledo, 145; Bob Shave, Cleveland, 146; James Wenger, Jock Hutchinson, 147 each; Wilfred Reid, Capt. E. F. Carter, William M. Creavy, F. S. Gallett, Harry Hampton, 148; Larry Nabholtz, Al Watrous, Al Espinosa, Craigwood, 149; Robert A. Gardner, Alex Ayton, H. Martin, Willie Hunter, 150; James J. Meehan, Harold Long, Harry Maroney, Eddie Murphy, J. C. Fee, George Stark, Bob MacDonald, J. P. Roupe Jr., Laurie Ayton, Rom Kennett, A. Chevseena, 151 each.

Chick Evans, well known amateur, failed to qualify, turning in a card of 153.

Yanks Split With Red Sox.

NEW YORK, May 29.—After losing the first game to Boston, 3 to 1, the Yankees won the afterpiece, 7 to 2, and took the series from the Red Sox three games to two.

Prothro, Boston third baseman, injured his right leg sliding to second base in the first game and retired from the lineup.

NEW YORK, May 29.—A wily, clever boxer against a rock crushing slugger.

Ever since David licked Goliath, the experts have differed violently in a case of this kind, and today proved no exception. Seldom have the critics been more markedly at variance than they were today over Paul Berlenbach's changes of lifting the light-heavyweight crowd from Mike McTigue in their 15-round battle in Yankee stadium tonight.

Mike is the clever one. There are plenty who say that Mike is champion today because he is clever and not because he is a fighter, and it is this school of thought that has established the challenger, "Punch 'Em Paul," a favorite to win. It is one of few times in pugilistic history that a challenger has entered the ring a favorite over the champion.

But Berlenbach's margin of favoritism was not large, despite his popularity, and Mike's unpopularity with the Gotham boxing public.

Ten to nine and six to five does not indicate any overwhelming favoritism and there was plenty of money along Broadway that McTigue's admittedly superior cleverness would keep him out of harm's way for 15 rounds. The McTigue backers are basing their hopes on a verdict for the champion on points.

Indications today pointed to a capacity house. The show is for the milk fund benefit, insuring the presence, not only of the ordinary fight crowd, but of society folk generally.

Tex Rickard, who is promoting the show, announced today the advance sale already has passed the $125,000 mark, and with the last minute scramble that always develops for seats, the affair is expected to gross around $200,000.

Berlenbach's popularity is based almost entirely upon his slugging proclivities. In the 27 bouts he has engaged in since entering the fight game, he has scored 21 knockouts, and some of them were what Broadway calls "tough babies."

On the other hand, McTigue has fought but seven times since he took the title from Battling Siki, who won it from Georges Carpentier, and of that lucky number he has scored two knockouts of setups. He took his own referee to Georgia with him on one occasion to get a verdict over Young Stribling, the Georgia schoolboy.

There will be no marked difference in the weight of the men. Both were reported today well under the 157-pound light heavyweight limit.

Faber Weakens in Ninth.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Red Faber weakened in the ninth inning when Manager Cobb, of Detroit, injected his pinch hitter into the game and overtook Chicago after the locals had scored four runs on Kamm's home run with the bases filled in the eighth inning.

Chicago tied the count in their half of the ninth, but Ted Lyons, who relieved Faber, was unsteady in the tenth inning and started the visitors otctory with a wild throw to second. Bunched hits followed this, and Detroit won 7 to 5.

Cost of the proposed water power plan to supply Dublin with electricity is estimated at $35,000,000.

MELHORN LEADS WESTERN FIELD

CHICAGO, May 29.—With a card of 137 for the two days' play, William (Wild Bill) Melhlhorn led the field in the qualifying tests for the national open championship in the east next week. Dave Robertson of Detroit was second with 143. Others who qualified were Alex Cunningham, Toledo, 145; Bob Shave, Cleveland, 146; James Wenger, Jock Hutchinson, 147 each; Wilfred Reid, Capt. E. F. Carter, William M. Creavy, F. S. Gallett, Harry Hampton, 148; Larry Nabholtz, Al Watrous, Al Espinosa, Craigwood, 149; Robert A. Gardner, Alex Ayton, H. Martin, Willie Hunter, 150; James J. Meehan, Harold Long, Harry Maroney, Eddie Murphy, J. C. Fee, George Stark, Bob MacDonald, J. P. Rouse Jr., Laurie Ayton, Rom Kennett, A. Claeyseena, 151 each.

Chick Evans, well known amateur, failed to qualify, turning in a card of 153.

Yanks Split With Red Sox.

NEW YORK, May 29.—After losing the first game to Boston, 3 to 1, the Yankees won the afterpiece, 7 to 2, and took the series from the Red Sox three games to two.

Prothro, Boston third baseman, injured his right leg sliding to second base in the first game and retired from the lineup.

East Liverpool druggists and every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if ALLENRHU, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

ALLENRHU has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of ALLENRHU, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless ALLENRHU decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed East Liverpool druggists and druggists everywhere to guarantee it as above in every instance.

Czechs Plan National Park on Large Scale In Central Europe

PRAGUE, May —Now that the strained relations between Czecho-Sovakia and Poland are gradually being replaced by more cordial ones, it is not unlikely that the scheme for the creation of a beautiful national park, in the glorious Tatra Mountains, just where they form a natural barrier between the two countries, will soon be realized.

Drawn up by eminent Czech naturalists, the scheme provided for the conversion of a tract of mountain and primeval forest, some hundred square miles in area.

This area, although little known, includes some of the most beautiful scenery in Central Europe.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. "The Rag Man" Promises to Be Jackie's Funniest

In his latest Metro-Goldwyn production, "The Rag Man," which is coming to the American Theatre Monday, Jackie Coogan has a story that is timely in its application, for it is a beautiful argument against race prejudices—though of course its reason for existence is not to preach, but to entertain.

The story, written by Willard Mack, tells of a little Irish boy who falls into the hands of a junk dealer, becomes his active, and finally his 'senior'" partner, and throughout is his tormenting, adorable and aggravating little comrade. There is plenty of pathos, but there is more than even the usual quota of 'Coogan Comedy" in this picture. Eddie Cline was given the post of director by Jack Coogan, Sr., and was instructed to "make it the funniest picture that Jackie has ever starred in."

And that's precisely what Eddie Cline has done.

THE WORLD SHALL BE ESTABLISHED
millions now living will never die

Shifting of governments has been the history of the world; and much suffering has resulted from the thoughtless unconcern of Powers — jealous, crafty, plotting for control of the world.

Professions of peace are now rampant, plans are afloat promising stability. Yet there comes to light a ceaseless, untiring working to create weapons of destruction — aircraft, poison gas, cruisers, bombs, liquid fire.

Designs against neighbor nations, which are really plans of annihilation, lack the promise of stability. Yet the prophecies revealing present tendencies show that peace, permanent peace, will follow the confusion, distress and reeling perplexity of our world.

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Chester Nine Tightens Grip On First Place In City League

Riley's Crew Downs Trotters In 6 to 3 Game At Smith Field

M. Cebula, West Virgini ans' Hurling Ace, Supplants Hoy in First Frame and Turns Back Rivals; Pinchhitter Potts Poles Out Double to Bring in Winning Runs in Fifth.

Overcoming a three run lead in the fourth and fifth innings, Chester defeated the Trotter club of the City Industrial league last evening at Smith Field, Chester, 6 to 3, making the second victory of the Riley crew over the local club in three days.

More than 1,000 intensely enthusiastic fans witnessed the contest. Lined along first and third base lines, the fans sat up a clamor of shouting and rooting that has had no precedent in city league games this season.

As a result of its victory the Chester club takes a tighter grasp on first place, the Trotters, in second place, hold a firm grip on their post, with a one-run lead over the K. T. K. nine.

Hoy started on the hilltop for Chester and but three men faced him and two runs were scored. Then M. Cebula, who defeated Trotters at Patterson Field Tuesday, supplanted him. Pollock came up and hit a long fly to P. Bennett, enabling E. Bayley, who had tripled, to finish. Thereafter Cebula blanked the clever playing auto contingent with regularity.

Cebula was in rare form. Had he started the game, a shut-out might have been recorded. He did not walk a single batter and he fanned seven. He kept the five hits he allowed scattered except in the growing darkness of the sixth, when, after two were out, Kinsey and Aufderheide singled in succession, but their efforts were fruitless as Hunselman fanned.

The big noise of the contest came in the fifth when, with the score 3 to 2 in favor of Trotters, the game was broken up by the giant Potts, who, with the bases clogged by reason of the wildness of Barr who had replaced Heckathorne, sent over the winning runs.

The fifth opened with L. McMath drawing a pass from Heckathorne. Then Barr was sent in. W. McMath promptly sacrificed. P. Cebula walked and stole second as McMath went to third. F. Marshall drew four wide ones, filling the bases.

DeLong drove to E. Bayley, who threw to Hunselman, forcing out L. McMath. Cochrane received a pass and P. Cebula went in with the tying run. Potts, batting for P. Bennett, doubled to middle and F. Marshall and DeLong registered. Hunselman dropped Moore's infield fly. The latter stole second and tore several ligaments in his right leg when he dropped into the sack. On the muff, Cochrane counted. Moore groaned in pain at second and after Dr. C. E. Campbell had examined him, he was carried off the field. Campbell (not the doctor, however), took his place. The inning ended when M. Cebula fanned.

Heckathorne allowed but three hits during his tenure on the mound, but he was wild, passing four.

Three fast double plays marked the day's playing with but a total of three miscues by both teams.

Potts' spectacular hit in the fifth was the batting feature. He had a perfect batting mark as did L. McMath in two walks and a double in three appearances, and W. McMath, who had the unique record of two timely sacrifices and a walk in three times up.

Though pitching sensationally, M. Cebula fanned three times as did Hunselman.

DeLong caught Cebula in superb fashion and his triple in the fourth scored Chester's first run. He himself counted later.

How the Opening Runs Were Made.

J. Strobel walked in the first and reached second as Hoy threw late to L. McMath at second. Both runners scored on E. Bayley's triple to middle. The latter counted on Pollock's fly to P. Bennett.

DeLong, tripling to middle in the fourth, scored F. Marshall, who had previously walked, and himself finished as Herbert threw out P. Bennett at first.

K. T. K. DEFEATS LAUGHLIN NINE

Bucher Allows West Virginians Three Safeties.

Although wild at times, Bucher of the K. T. K. City Industrial league club held Laughlin to three hits last evening at Columbian park and the Ohio potters finished in front, 6 to 2.

Finley, with three hits in three times up, had a perfect day at bat, as did Bucher with two safeties in two trips out.

Digman was touched for eleven safeties during the session. Finley missed one of six chances at short and with Shaw at second excelled in the field, the latter accepting five that came his way.

McShane walked in the first and was sacrificed to second by Shaw. He finished on Finley's single and Simcox's fly to Stroble.

Merchant, singling in the second, reached second on Rairden's out and scored on Pollock's bunt. The latter went around on Bucher's single.

In the third Babb walked and scored on Watson's single. Sayres walked in the fourth. Robinson singled. Digman's out at first sent Sayre in.

In the fourth also Rairden of K. T. K. singled. Pollock sacrificed. Bucher doubled, scoring Rariden. McShane singled. The runners counted on Finley's triple.

Despite the use of three pinch hitters in the sixth by Manager Bricelin, Laughlin failed to score.

Chrysler Breaking Sales Records While Demand Goes Still Higher

The public's insistence on results that only the Chrysler Six delivers grows more emphatic week by week and month by month.

Mounting sales figures in the weekly reports for the United States show that the Chrysler Six—already a record-breaker in popularity—is soaring higher than ever before.

The latest weekly report registers an increase of 116% in retail sales over the corresponding week of 1924.

The sales for that week were 65% bigger than the very biggest week of 1924.

Furthermore, the last three weeks reported are the biggest weeks of 1925.

April, 1925, shows the largest month's business in Chrysler Six history.

Always mounting to higher and higher figures.

In Illinois, for example, April, 1925, shows an increase of 237% over 1924; Connecticut and the Boston district, including the remainder of New England, 133%; the Atlanta district, including Georgia, South Carolina and Florida, 364%; San Francisco district, including California, New Mexico and Nevada, 89%.

There never has been anything like it as a demonstration of public approval.

All of which becomes even more amazing, more significant when you recall that in 1924 the Chrysler Six had already established sales records unequaled in a quarter-century of motor car history.

Turn to the chart at your right. It shows you in simple and graphic way Chrysler Six production month by month.

See how the lines shoot up as Chrysler factory facilities were increased to meet the even more emphatic public demand for Chrysler Six results.

The public knows exactly what it is about. It has long waited for Chrysler Six quality and performance and it is determined to enjoy their advantages—even to the abandonment of cars previously owned, that cost thousands of dollars more than the Chrysler Six.

The public knows that no matter what the make or price, only the Chrysler Six gives them Chrysler brilliance of performance, Chrysler roadability and ease, Chrysler quality, economy and the score of other advantages that belong to this car alone.

Chester Nine Tightens Grip On First Place In City League

Riley's Crew Downs Trotters In 6 to 3 Game At Smith Field

M. Cebula, West Virgini ans' Hurling Ace, Supplants Hoy in First Frame and Turns Back Rivals; Pinchhitter Potts Poles Out Double to Bring in Winning Runs in Fifth.

Overcoming a three run lead in the fourth and fifth innings, Chester defeated the Trotter club of the City Industrial league last evening at Smith Field, Chester, 6 to 3, making the second victory of the Riley crew over the local club in three days.

More than 1,000 intensely enthusiastic fans witnessed the contest. Lined along first and third base lines, the fans sat up a clamor of shouting and rooting that has had no precedent in city league games this season.

As a result of its victory the Chester club takes a tighter grasp on first place, the Trotters, in second place, hold a firm grip on their post, with a one-run lead over the K. T. K. nine.

Hoy started on the hilltop for Chester and but three men faced him and two runs were scored. Then M. Cebula, who defeated Trotters at Patterson Field Tuesday, supplanted him. Pollock came up and hit a long fly to P. Bennett, enabling E. Bayley, who had tripled, to finish. Thereafter Cebula blanked the clever playing auto contingent with regularity.

Cebula was in rare form. Had he started the game, a shut-out might have been recorded. He did not walk a single batter and he fanned seven. He kept the five hits he allowed scattered except in the growing darkness of the sixth, when, after two were out, Kinsey and Aufderheide singled in succession, but their efforts were fruitless as Hunselman fanned.

The big noise of the contest came in the fifth when, with the score 3 to 2 in favor of Trotters, the game was broken up by the giant Potts, who, with the bases clogged by reason of the wildness of Barr who had replaced Heckathorne, sent over the winning runs.

The fifth opened with L. McMath drawing a pass from Heckathorne. Then Barr was sent in. W. McMath promptly sacrificed. P. Cebula walked and stole second as McMath went to third. F. Marshall drew four wide ones, filling the bases.

DeLong drove to E. Bayley, who threw to Hunselman, forcing out L. McMath. Cochrane received a pass and P. Cebula went in with the tying run. Potts, batting for P. Bennett, doubled to middle and F. Marshall and DeLong registered. Hunselman dropped Moore's infield fly. The latter stole second and tore several ligaments in his right leg when he dropped into the sack. On the muff, Cochrane counted. Moore groaned in pain at second and after Dr. C. E. Campbell had examined him, he was carried off the field. Campbell (not the doctor, however), took his place. The inning ended when M. Cebula fanned.

Heckathorne allowed but three hits during his tenure on the mound, but he was wild, passing four.

Three fast double plays marked the day's playing with but a total of three miscues by both teams.

Potts' spectacular hit in the fifth was the batting feature. He had a perfect batting mark as did L. McMath in two walks and a double in three appearances, and W. McMath, who had the unique record of two timely sacrifices and a walk in three times up.

Though pitching sensationally, M. Cebula fanned three times as did Hunselman.

DeLong caught Cebula in superb fashion and his triple in the fourth scored Chester's first run. He himself counted later.

How the Opening Runs Were Made.

J. Strobel walked in the first and reached second as Hoy threw late to L. McMath at second. Both runners scored on E. Bayley's triple to middle. The latter counted on Pollock's fly to P. Bennett.

DeLong, tripling to middle in the fourth, scored F. Marshall, who had previously walked, and himself finished as Herbert threw out P. Bennett at first.

Bucher Allows West Virginians Three Safeties.

Although wild at times, Bucher of the K. T. K. City Industrial league club held Laughlin to three hits last evening at Columbian park and the Ohio potters finished in front, 6 to 2.

Finley, with three hits in three times up, had a perfect day at bat, as did Bucher with two safeties in two trips out.

Digman was touched for eleven safeties during the session. Finley missed one of six chances at short and with Shaw at second excelled in the field, the latter accepting five that came his way.

McShane walked in the first and was sacrificed to second by Shaw. He finished on Finley's single and Simcox's fly to Stroble.

Merchant, singling in the second, reached second on Rairden's out and scored on Pollock's bunt. The latter went around on Bucher's single.

In the third Babb walked and scored on Watson's single. Sayres walked in the fourth. Robinson singled. Digman's out at first sent Sayre in. In the fourth also Rairden of K. T. K. singled. Pollock sacrificed. Bucher doubled, scoring Rariden. McShane singled. The runners counted on Finley's triple.

Despite the use of three pinch hitters in the sixth by Manager Bricelin, Laughlin failed to score.

Resolution No. 338

DECLARING IT NECESSARY TO TRANSFER $4,000.00 FROM THE GENERAL FUND OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, TO THE PUBLIC SAFETY FUND AND $2,500.00 FROM THE GENERAL FUND TO THE PUBLIC SERVICE FUND OF SAID CITY AND PROVIDING A METHOD FOR SAID TRANSFER.

Be it resolved by the Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio, (Two-thirds of all the members elected thereto concurring):

SECTION 1. That for the purpose of paying the salaries of the officers and employees of the Department of Public Safety of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, and to provide for the operation and maintenance of said Department for the balance of the fiscal half year ending June 30th, 1925, it is necessary to transfer the sum of Four Thousand Dollars ($4,000.00) from the General Fund of said City to the Public Safety Fund of said City. There being a sufficient amount of money in the General Fund to permit the transfer of said sum from the same; which said sum of Four Thousand Dollars ($4,000.00) is not needed in the General Fund.

SECTION 2. That for the purpose of paying the salaries of the officers and employees of the Department of Public Service of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, and to provide for the operation and maintenance of said Department for the balance of the fiscal half year ending June 30th, 1925, it is necessary to transfer the sum of Twenty-five Hundred Dollars ($2,500.00) from the General Fund of said City to the Public Service Department of said City. There being a sufficient amount of money in the General Fund to permit the transfer of said sum from the same, which said sum of Twenty-five Hundred Dollars ($2,500.00) is not needed in the General Fund.

SECTION 3. That the City Solicitor be and he is hereby authorized and directed to file a petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Columbiana County, Ohio, praying for permission to make said transfer, and to take any and all steps necessary as provided by law to effect the same; and the City Auditor is hereby authorized and directed to make such transfer when authorized by said Court so to do.

SECTION 4. That this resolution is found by Council to be and hereby is declared to be an emergency measure; said emergency lies in the fact that there is not now sufficient money in the Public Safety Fund and Public Service Fund to pay the salaries and pay for the maintenance and operation of said Safety and Service Departments during the remainder of said fiscal half year. All of which is necessary and essential for the immediate preservation of the Public safety and welfare in said City.

naments have been decided at medal play. There will be match play in the amateur this year, of course, but by restricting the number of qualifiers to 16 it is felt that the importance of the medal play round has been so emphasized as completely to overshadow the hole by hole contests.

Good Players May Slip.

It is pointed out that players good enough to win through the tournament to the semi-finals and finals may slip ever so slightly in the qualification and fail to get a chance at the title. Some years ago Jerry Travers almost failed to qualify in a national amateur. He was the last one of the 32 to get a chance at the match play, and yet he came through and won the championship. Had there been only 16 qualifiers that year Travers would not have had a look-in.

Similarly it is within the range of possibilities that men will qualify at Oakmont who are by no means entitled to be classed among the 16 best amateurs there. They may display an especially brilliant game for 18 or 36 holes, and yet not have the sound game necessary to carry them through a week's play.

Thus it is that the golfing experts are anticipating a lot of surprises and upsets at Pittsburgh, and in the prevailing conditions there is no telling how the youth in whom Washington's hopes are centered will fare. Only one thing is reasonably certain — if Roland Mackenzie qualifies he will give a good account of himself in the match play.

So far this season Roland has played in three big tournaments in the District of Columbia. In two of these he won both the qualifying medals and first honors in match play. In the third he was not so good on his qualifying round, but he walked through the field in match play and won the tournament by such scores as 4 to 3, 7 and 6, 6 and 5, and 5 and 4.

His best round at tournament play was a 69 with which he established a course record for the Washington Golf and Country club, being the first player, either professional or amateur, to break a par 70. Some of the best professionals in the country have tried to break par on this course, a substantial cash purse having been offered to the one who could do it. In shooting his 69, young Mackenzie played the first nine holes in 31 strokes, which is five under par. That kind of golf is unbeatable, and if he can uncork that brand at Oakmont he will make golf history.

Roland has the ideal physique and temperament for a golfer. He is a tall, rangy lad, built from the ground up, and has tremendous hitting power, drives of well over 300 yards being frequent features of his game. Obviously, to play the kind of golf he does he is a shotmaker, having every kind of shot in his bag that a champion needs. Perhaps his best asset is his quiet, equable disposition. If he has any "nerves" he has never exhibited them.

He played his first golf four years ago and began to figure prominently in his second season, when he was the runner-up in the Middle-Atlantic championship, being defeated by his father, Albert R. Mackenzie. Last year he ranked among the top-notchers of this section, winning several big tournaments in addition to his performance in the national amateur, in which, by the way, he played his last 15 holes in three under 4s.

Young Mackenzie does not live on a golf course. He has been required to keep up his school work as a prerequisite to being permitted to participate in tournaments, and his opportunities to practice have necessarily been limited.

His favorite method of developing his game is to play a round of 18 holes by himself, playing four balls, and playing out each hole with every one, even to the last putt.

"The Night Club" Is Screen Feature At Ceramic Theatre

They told Raymond Griffith that a bull connot kick backwards, that he can kick with a forward or a sideways motion only.

That's all applesauce, according to Griffith, who gained accurate knowledge on the subject recently, when a large, red-haired and black-souled hecow planted its right kind hoof on Ray's trousers right where they lost their creases quickest.

The experiment took place during the filming of Paramount's "The Night Club," a rollicking story adapted from William de Mille's stage play "After Five." Griffith, having been treated rudely and roughly by the bull, is shown in the act of using his right foot to register his disapproval on the animal's posterior.

But "Bombo," the name by which the bull is affectionately known by Raymond Griffith, sensed the impending chastisement and, as the sporting writers say, he "beat Griffith to the punch."

Featured with Griffith in the cast of "The Night Club," at the Ceramic theater today and Saturday, are Vera Reynolds, Wallace Beery and Louise Fazenda. The story is one of a young woman-hater, who falls heir to a million but has to marry a certain girl to collect.

Come and laugh yourself silly.

Anti-Aircraft Shell To Prevent Air Attack Invented in Japan

TOKYO, May.—Invention of an anti-aircraft shell by means of which nets are spread across the path of advancing airplanes, causing them to become entangled in the meshes of the nets and thus bringing them to the ground, is claimed by Takeo Takagi. Tests of the shell recently have been made by Japanese army and navy officials, but the results have not been made public.

"Modan" is the name which Takagi has given to the shell. He asserts that it may be fired from an anti-aircraft gun, by a powerful rocket, or dropped from another airplane. The explosion of the shell releases a net which is suspended from parachutes and descends slowly in the path of the advancing plane.

A MAN WHO BECAME FAMOUS

Doctor R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears above, was not only a successful physician but also a profound student of the medicinal qualities of Nature's remedies, roots and herbs, and by close observation of the methods used by the Indians, he discovered their great remedial qualities, especially for weaknesses of women, and after careful preparation succeeded in giving to the world a remedy which has been used by women with the best results for half a century. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is still in great demand, while many other so called "cure-alls" have come and gone. The reason for its phenomenal success is because of its absolute purity, and Dr. Pierce's high standing as an honored citizen of Buffalo is a guarantee of all that is claimed for the Favorite Prescription as a regulator for the ills peculiar to women.

naments have been decided at medal play. There will be match play in the amateur this year, of course, but by restricting the number of qualifiers to 16 it is felt that the importance of the medal play round has been so emphasized as completely to overshadow the hole by hole contests.

Good Players May Slip.

It is pointed out that players good enough to win through the tournament to the semi-finals and finals may slip ever so slightly in the qualification and fail to get a chance at the title. Some years ago Jerry Travers almost failed to qualify in a national amateur. He was the last one of the 32 to get a chance at the match play, and yet he came through and won the championship. Had there been only 16 qualifiers that year Travers would not have had a look-in.

Similarly it is within the range of possibilities that men will qualify at Oakmont who are by no means entitled to be classed among the 16 best amateurs there. They may display an especially brilliant game for 18 or 36 holes, and yet not have the sound game necessary to carry them through a week's play.

Thus it is that the golfing experts are anticipating a lot of surprises and upsets at Pittsburgh, and in the prevailing conditions there is no telling how the youth in whom Washington's hopes are centered will fare. Only one thing is reasonably certain — if Roland Mackenzie qualifies he will give a good account of himself in the match play.

So far this season Roland has played in three big tournaments in the District of Columbia. In two of these he won both the qualifying medals and first honors in match play. In the third he was not so good on his qualifying round, but he walked through the field in match play and won the tournament by such scores as 4 to 3, 7 and 6, 6 and 5, and 5 and 4.

His best round at tournament play was a 69 with which he established a course record for the Washington Golf and Country club, being the first player, either professional or amateur, to break a par 70. Some of the best professionals in the country have tried to break par on this course, a substantial cash purse having been offered to the one who could do it. In shooting his 69, young Mackenzie played the first nine holes in 31 strokes, which is five under par. That kind of golf is unbeatable, and if he can uncork that brand at Oakmont he will make golf history.

Roland has the ideal physique and temperament for a golfer. He is a tall, rangy lad, built from the ground up, and has tremendous hitting power, drives of well over 300 yards being frequent features of his game. Obviously, to play the kind of golf he does he is a shotmaker, having every kind of shot in his bag that a champion needs. Perhaps his best asset is his quiet, equable disposition. If he has any "nerves" he has never exhibited them.

He played his first golf four years ago and began to figure prominently in his second season, when he was the runner-up in the Middle-Atlantic championship, being defeated by his father, Albert R. Mackenzie. Last year he ranked among the top-notchers of this section, winning several big tournaments in addition to his performance in the national amateur, in which, by the way, he played his last 15 holes in three under 4s.

Young Mackenzie does not live on a golf course. He has been required to keep up his school work as a prerequisite to being permitted to participate in tournaments, and his opportunities to practice have necessarily been limited.

His favorite method of developing his game is to play a round of 18 holes by himself, playing four balls, and playing out each hole with every one, even to the last putt.

"The Night Club" Is Screen Feature At Ceramic Theatre

They told Raymond Griffith that a bull connot kick backwards, that he can kick with a forward or a sideways motion only.

That's all applesauce, according to Griffith, who gained accurate knowledge on the subject recently, when a large, red-haired and black-souled hecow planted its right kind hoof on Ray's trousers right where they lost their creases quickest.

The experiment took place during the filming of Paramount's "The Night Club," a rollicking story adapted from William de Mille's stage play "After Five." Griffith, having been treated rudely and roughly by the bull, is shown in the act of using his right foot to register his disapproval on the animal's posterior.

But "Bombo," the name by which the bull is affectionately known by Raymond Griffith, sensed the impending chastisement and, as the sporting writers say, he "beat Griffith to the punch."

Featured with Griffith in the cast of "The Night Club," at the Ceramic theater today and Saturday, are Vera Reynolds, Wallace Beery and Louise Fazenda. The story is one of a young woman-hater, who falls heir to a million but has to marry a certain girl to collect.

Come and laugh yourself silly.

Anti-Aircraft Shell To Prevent Air Attack Invented in Japan

TOKYO, May.—Invention of an anti-aircraft shell by means of which nets are spread across the path of advancing airplanes, causing them to become entangled in the meshes of the nets and thus bringing them to the ground.

A MAN WHO BECAME FAMOUS

Doctor R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears above, was not only a successful physician but also a profound student of the medicinal qualities of Nature's remedies, roots and herbs, and by close observation of the methods used by the Indians, he discovered their great remedial qualities, especially for weaknesses of women, and after careful preparation succeeded in giving to the world a remedy which has been used by women with the best results for half a century. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is still in great demand, while many other so called "cure-alls" have come and gone. The reason for its phenomenal success is because of its absolute purity, and Dr. Pierce's high standing as an honored citizen of Buffalo is a guarantee of all that is claimed for the Favorite Prescription as a regulator for the ills peculiar to women.

is claimed by Takeo Takagi. Tests of the shell recently have been made by Japanese army and navy officials, but the results have not been made public.

"Modan" is the name which Takagi has given to the shell. He asserts that it may be fired from an anti-aircraft gun, by a powerful rocket, or dropped from another airplane. The explosion of the shell releases a net which is suspended from parachutes and descends slowly in the path of the advancing plane.

The Romanoff Jewelry.
Manna at 9 to 1.
Ford's New Plan.
$250,000,000 a Year.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

To prove its solvency the soviet government invited all foreign representatives to inspect the $50,000,000 Romanoff jewel collection, still intact.

The envoys having carefully studied the piles of diamonds, pearls, rubies, gold an platinum, are supposed to have said like Mr. Warfield at Weber and Fields:

"My boy, your word is sufficient."

Bolshevism keeps the jewels, including a miniature railroad train, studded with big diamonds, as a horrible example and proof of Romanoff extravagance.

But it's what the czars did that counts, not what they spent. The great Peter spent all that Russia had and borrowed more.

But he created Russia and was a first class investment.

Manna won the English derby at 9 to 1. Steve Donoghue rode the horse, winning his sixth derby. All that means more to 70 per cent of Great Britain's population than all the other news of the week put together. In this country we don't devote such intense nation-wide interest to any race. We save that for a prize fight.

Henry Ford will use United States ships, if he gets them, to take cars south and around into the Gulf of Mexico and bring fruit and vegetables back to the north.

That program would be welcomed by millions. It would help to solve one problem of distribution and develop the great producing regions of the south as they should be developed.

Henry Ford's route, of course, should be extended through the Panama canal to the west coast. That would not please trans-continental railroads, but they could make it up somehow.

Lord Bradbury, formerly British member of the reparations commission, says France could pay $250,000,000 a year on account of her debts, to be divided between England and the United States, and that regardless of the amount France may receive from Germany.

French statesmen, who know more about France's financial position than any Englishman can know, declare such payment is impossible. At the present rate of exchange $250,000,000 would be 5,000,000,000 francs a year, which is the amount that Bismarck took as the price of French defeat in 1870.

The worst feature of the discussion is the fall of the French franc.

Amundsen has been missing six days, and the president expresses willingness to send one of our dirigibles to look for him. If disaster has happened to the courageous explorers,

JOHN T. WOOD IS RE-ELECTED CHIEFTAIN OF UNION POTTERS

McGillivray Again Chosen Secretary of N. B. O. P.

TWO NEW FACES

Vice-Presidents Driber and Dennis Will Quit Posts.

President John T. Wood and Secretary-treasurer John D. McGillivray, both of East Liverpool, were re-elected for one year terms in the annual balloting for officers of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, it was announced today.

But two changes were made in the personnel of the executive board. William E. Young, of Trenton, N. J., succeeds Louis A. Driber also of Trenton as third vice-president, while Joseph Smith, Philadelphia, takes the place of Thomas B. Dennis, Trenton, who was defeated for fifth vice-president in the primary election. All other officers were re-elected.

Driber-Young Race Close.

Wood defeated William Cox, of East Liverpool, for president by a vote of 2,500 to 1,268. McGillivray's victory over Edward McDevitt, of Clarksburg, formerly of East Liverpool, for secretary-treasurer was almost three to one. The vote was: McGillivray, 2,772; McDevitt, 980.

George Cartlidge, Trenton, unopposed for first vice-president, polled 3,186 votes. George Chadwick, of East Liverpool, experienced little trouble in defeating Frank McCullough, also of this city, for second vice-president, the cote being Chadwick, 2,712; McCullough, 984.

The race between Louis A. Driber, Trenton, present incumbent, and William E. Young, also of Trenton, for third vice-president, was close, the latter's majority being 158. Driber polled 1,661 votes, while Young received 1,819 ballots.

BROOKLYN GIRL BRUTALLY ATTACKED AND SLAIN; BODY FOUND IN LOT

Police Search for Moral Weakling Who Bound and Gagged Victim Within Stone's Throw of Home.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Brutally attacked and murdered, the body of Miss Florence Kane, 24, of Brooklyn, was found bound and gagged in a vacant lot within a stone's throw of her home this morning.

Police and detectives, among them Detective James Kane, her brother, who ironically enough was sent to the scene at the first call when her identity had not yet been established, are searching for an unidentified moral weakling as her slayer.

Death was caused by a fist being brutally rammed down the girl's throat, it was stated after a preliminary medical examination by Dr. E. E. Martin.

Miss Kane attended a theatre performance in Manhattan with 15 other girls last night, it was learned, and was on her way home alone when met by her assailant.

Her hands had been tied together with a yellow sash which she wore and a part of her flannel underclothing had been made into a gag and stuffed in her mouth. Despite these things, the girl's struggles apprently

MAINE EXPRESS DITCHED; ONE MAN IS KILLED, TWO INJURED

Scores of Passengers Thrown From Berths in Smash-up.

FIRE FOLLOWS

Locomotive and Two Mail Cars Overturn; Split Switch Blamed.

WORCESTER, Mass., May 29.—The Maine Express, New York to Bar Harbor, Me., was ditched here early today.

S. A. Williams, a fireman, of Hartford, Conn., was killed. John R. Earley, engineer also of Hartford, was injured, as was Lewis B. Zambino, of Lawrence, a passenger.

Scores of passengers were thrown from their berths as the locomotive and mail cars left the rails and overturned.

Fire followed the overturning of the locomotive, but the flames were soon controlled.

A split switch was given as the cause of the ditching of the crack express. State police began an investigation.

Fireman Scalded to Death.

Zambino, the only passenger hurt, was riding in the smoker, which did not leave the rails.

For more than 200 yards, the roadbed was torn up, where the locomotive and mail cars ran along the ties before turning over.

STREET CAR CONDUCTOR CONFESSES MURDER OF TWO SMALL CHILDREN

Brutal Double Crime Uncovered When Tots' Bodies, With Skulls Crushed, are Recovered From Creek.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 29.—Confessing according to authorities, to one of the most deliberate and brutal double murders on record here, Raymond Winters, 30 an interurban conductor, was today formally charged with slaying Helen Sabo, 6, and her brother Alexander, 8.

The children's bodies were recovered from a creek near their home, with both skulls crushed. Assistant district Attorney Harry Estep declared Winters, under a three-hour grilling, broke down and confessed that he lured the children to the creek, with candies and ice cream, then murdered them.

"I don't know why I did it, detectives quoted Winters as saying.

"I hit one of them on the head with a rock, and after that my recollection gets hazy."

Immediately after arraignment, the conductor was removed to the Allegheny county jail, under heavy guard, where he will be held until this afternoon when the prosecutor again will grill him.

The alleged slayer was a veteran of the World War, gassed several times, he said.

HAROLD PURDY FATALLY INJURED AS WIFE, ON HOME PORCH, LOOKS ON

Research Plant Employe is Run Down by Car Driven by Charles Van Meter, Co-worker, After he Alights From Another Machine and Starts to Cross Street.

VICTIM DIES AFTER REMOVAL TO HOSPITAL; SKULL FRACTURED

Van Meter Surrenders and is Jailed on Charge of Fast Driving, Which is Later Changed to Manslaughter—Coroner J. M. Van Fossan, of East Palestine, Will Conduct Inquest.

Struck by an automobile almost directly in front of his home in Harvey avenue as his wife, sitting on the porch, looked on, Harold Purdy, 24, kiln fireman for the Babcock-Wilcox company, near the state line, died in the City hospital at 8 o'clock last night. His skull was fractured.

Charles Van Meter, Monaca street, a fellow employe, who was driving the car, surrendered to the police following the accident. He was placed in jail on a charge of fast and reckless driving, which was later changed to manslaughter. According to reports made to the police, he was driving at a rapid rate of speed.

Van Meter will be given a hearing before Mayor Brown at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Relatives announced this morning that counsel would be engaged to defend him.

On his way home from work at 6 o'clock, Purdy accepted a fellow worker's invitation to ride. As his home is but a few blocks away, he stood on the running board of the car. Near his home, the machine slowed up and Purdy alighted.

As Purdy stepped to the street to cross to his home, he was struck by Van Meter's car and hurled 30 feet

Coroner is Notified.

A call was sent for the Sturgis ambulance, but before it arrived Purdy was placed in a passing automobile and rushed to the hospital. Dr. R. J. Marshall, who examined the injured man, found his skull badly crushed. The victim died without regaining consciousness.

Van Meter went to the city hall shortly after the accident occurred and was ordered held pending an investigation. The radiator of his machine was caved in and one headlight broken as the result of the accident.

Purdy's body was removed to the Miller undertaking establishment. County Coroner J. M. Van Fossan, East Palestine, is expected to arrive here late this afternoon to conduct an inquest.

The accident occurred in practically the same spot where Harry C. McMahon street car conductor, was run down by an automobile, as he stepped from a street car on March 20, ten weeks ago yesterday. McMahon, who suffered fractures of both legs and other injuries, was discharged from the hospital last Sunday and is now convalescing at his home in Pennsylvania avenue.

CARPENTERS WORK FOR $11

Strikers Offer Their Services Under New Wage Scale.

No signs of peace were apparent today in the strike of 125 carpenters which was declared in the East Liverpool district on May 1.

The walkout followed refusal of the contractors to grant the workers' demand for a wage increase from $10 to $11 a day.

Both sides said there was no change in the situation today, twenty-ninth day of the strike.

The carpenters' union, through F. A. Snowden, today announced that union men would work for the public at the rate of $11 a day.

it is too late now to save them. Looking for human beings painfully climbing over ice hummocks near the pole would be like hunting a half-dozen ants in a big hay field. But, at least, the nation might try.

Congressman Fish, from New York, thinks the president out to prosecute Otto H. Kahn, reported in Paris to have said things about American "debt note" unpleasing to the administration. Congressman Fish means well, probably Mr. Kahn also, and in prosecuting Kahn, there is a paragraph in the constitution about free speech that probably would interfere with that.

The American Medical association, holding its 76th annual convention, considers that alcohol is essential in the treatment of diseases and that doctors should be allowed to prescribe for patients as much as they choose.

Many citizens feel the same way but would like to do their own prescribing. But, prohibition enthusiasts sincere and determined have different views. And it won't be easy to change those views.

Messrs. Fall, Doheny and Sinclair have been re-indicted for conspiracy by a grand jury in the District of Columbia. If you find anybody anxious to bet that Mr. Fall will go to jail for selling the people's oil lands and taking secret payment for the sale, take the bet. We don't jail the really big criminals in this country. Little criminals, yes. It's a dangerous country for them if they're caught.

Conductor Confesses

Authorities believe the man was demented when he slew the children. No other motive has presented itself, they declared.

"A mania to kill, born of the war, might have prompted the brutal slayings' Estep said.

Others who viewed Winters were of the opinion that temporary lapse of mentality left the conductor with a lust to slay.

Searching parties found the children's bodies partly submerged in the muddy waters of the creek, 24 hours after they had disappeared mysteriously.

Informed by the proprietor of a confectionery store that a man resembling Winters purchased candy and ice cream there for the boy and girl the day before the conductor was arrested.

At first he denied any knowledge of the slayings and pretended to be grief-stricken to learn of their deaths. However, he admitted buying sweets at the confectionery and giving them to Helen and Alexander.

The long hours of examination by the prosecutor followed, during which Winters is reported to have made part of the confession.

Eager for details of the crime, in an effort to establish the motive, the prosecutor said Winters would be grilled without intermission until he had unraveled the horrible story authorities believe he is withholding.

Strangely enough, the children's father, Charles Sabo, a miner, was not vindictive when he learned of Winters' alleged confession.

Apparently he tried to explain that he harbors no rage toward the World war veteran accused of slaying his son and daughter.

Sabo believes Winters is a paranoiac, he said, his condition probably resulting from his part in many active campaigns during the recent conflict in Europe.

In direct contrast, the mother, Mrs. Anna Sabo, 43, collapsed when she saw the bodies of her children. She hovers hysterically on the verge of complete collapse in their residence which is the property of Mine No. 3, where the father is employed.

And today, passengers on the Pittsburgh-Charleroi interurban line sadly missed the smiling face of their newsboy who for many months had "made all the trains." It was while selling papers on Winters' car that little Alexander met the conductor and came to like him.

HOW MEMORIAL DAY ORIGINATED

The thirtieth day of May, now so generally observed as a Memorial Day, was first so designated in general orders to members of the Grand Army of the Republic in May, 1868, by General John A. Logan, then commander-in-chief of that organizttion, "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late Rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village and hamlet church yard in the land.

This was not a new idea, for the custom of decorating the graves of the dead has been observed in many lands for ages past, but a number of claims have been made, by or for persons as the first to propose formal services over the graves of the veterans in the northern states.

It is clearly established that before there was any public service of this character in the North, a "Decoration Day" was observed in a number of southern states over the graves of the Confederate dead and it is told that even before the close of the war on one of the islands on the Southern coast occupied for the care and training of the freed people, and where some soldiers had been buried, the teachers gathered their people together in early Springtime and there strewing flowers over the graves.

There were many who then doubted chanted their plaintive hymns while servance in the fear that it would unnecessarily keep alive memories of the wisdom of instituting such an oball should be buried in oblivion. Other objections were made to the expense entailed for music and flowers, which could be more wisely spent on the living.

But, nevertheless, the ceremony grew in sentiment year by year, as has the added number of graves to be decorated, for now the holiday belongs as much to the dead of the World war and Spanish-American war as to the war of the states.

OBLIVION SALL NOT COME

By COLONEL THOMAS J. DICKSON, U. S. Army.

Oblivion shall not come where dauntless valor sleeps!
Not while honor guards and love her deathless vigil keeps.
Immortal Valley Forge and Gettysburg! Where sacred blood
Was caught on Zephyr's wings. Not lost! Born again
On glorious mount—veiled Calvary. Verdun!
If you would your children train in paths of sacred strain
Go where winged victory proudly mounts the granite shaft
And bids the sons of earth to rise; to hope; to aspire!
There with her strong right hand she unfurls our flag.
Golden rays glint the sheen of earth's most distant star
And dubs your blushing sons worthy of their noble sires.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 29. — The stock market was unsettled in the early trading today by heavy selling in the Pan-American oil stocks as a result of the government's victory in the first round of the fight to cancel the naval oil reserve lease at Elkhills.

The stock opened three points lower and heavy trading took place around 76. An immediate recovery set in, however, which carried the stock nearly two points higher and the opening price proved to be the lowest for the period.

Profit taking also appeared in other sections of the market near the opening, but they were more than offset by the vigorous forward movements of Baldwin, Cast Iron Pipe, American Sugar and Havana Electric. Baldwin's rise to 120, up five points from Thursday's low and Havana Eletric's advance to 155 for a gain of eight points and a total rise of 20 points from yesterday's low, were the features of this period.

Havana Electric, a heretofore inactive stock, has been a spectacular performer in the last few weeks, selling on 10 to 15 days delivery indicating transfers of stock from holders in Cuba. The action of Baldwin directors in declaring the regular semi annual dividend of 3½ per cent stimulated buying in this stock and drove the shorts to cover.

A number of the railroad and motor stocks started a new rally, and sold from one to two points higher. Reading was the leader in the early trading, but Southern Railway forged to the front near the end of the first hour and sold up to 94⅝ for a gain of more than two points.

ALLAY FEAR FOR AMUNDSEN PARTY AS POLAR ZONE WEATHER IS O. K.

Explorer Left Instructions That no Search Should be Instituted for at Least 14 days.

OSLO, May 29.—Continued fair weather in the Polar zone and the knowledge that Captain Raold Amundsen expected to make more extensive observations at the Pole than was first believed, served to allay today the fears that have been expressed as to his safety.

Latest dispatches from Spitzbergen, where Amundsen and his companions hopped off on their daring aerial dash to the Pole last Thursday, said members of his base party did not favor starting any search for the missing explorer until at least two weeks have elapsed.

Amundsen's instructions, according to Lieutenant Horgan, a member of the party still at Spitzbergen, were that if he was not heard from for 14 days, the steamer Hobby was to go eastward and the steamer Farm, westward, along the ice barrier. If a six weeks' search produced no result, the ships were to return on the presumption that Amundsen was directing his course to Cape Columbia, approximately 250 miles north of Greenland.

These instructions indicated that Amundsen started out on his spectacular dash with the firm intention of making observations that would require considerable time.

Vote 269 Counts Against Furniture, Refrigerator Firms

CHICAGO, May 29.—Charging price fixing and curtailing of production in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, 269 indictments were returned in federal court today against furniture and refrigerator manufacturers all over the country. Their annual business today $600,000,000.

The investigation of the alleged trust started several months ago and agents from the department of justice have gathered evidence from coast to coast. Their report to Washington headquarters caused the department to send two special assistant attorneys general to Chicago. Roger Shale, who was instrumental in breaking up the cement trust, the plumbing and terra cotta trusts in New York, assumed charge of the Chicago headquarters.

This is said to be the biggest case, in the number of indictments, that the government has prosecuted since the Sherman law became effective.

Brooklyn Girl Slain

had forced her attacker to choke her to prevent her outcries being heard by the mother, who was waiting for her daughter's return in the home nearby.

A pair of heavy, worn gloves, such as are worn by truck men, was the only find which police believed might serve as a clue to the girl's assailant.

The gloves were being closely examined by finger print experts.

No outcries were heard by the families living on either side of the vacant lot where, strangely enough, there was a similar crime several years ago. That other time Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald was the victim. A Negro was afterward captured and convicted, and paid the penalty in the electric chair, at Sing Sing prison.

Because of memories of this other crime, heightened considerably by the sparsely settled and lonely character of the neighborhood, last night's victim had been many times warned against her practice of returning home late last nigt, alone.

But she was a modern girl, and had laughted at the warnings.

CERAMIC BOOKS PHOTOPLAY HIT

"Where North Begins" Opens Three-day Run Monday.

Adventurers, soldiers of fortune, fugitives from justice, and gold hunters in search of their respective goals—all the motley and dregs of civilization beside its finest representatives—pass and repass in the tense drama of the northland, "Where the North Begins," scheduled for a three-day run at the Ceramic theatre commencing Monday.

This Warner Brothers classic of the screen was filmed in northern California, in a wild region rarely visited by mortals. To the making of it was brought a cast of players — all of whome are acquainted with the rude life of frontier men and women; Clairs Adams, called the gamest actress in the movies, a skilled horsewoman; Walter McGrail, who has prospected in Alaska; Fred Huntley, who has knocked all over the world and had a life of rich adventure; Pat Hartigan, Myrtle Owen and Charles Stevens.

"Where the North Begins" is the story of the fight for a girl's hand, fought to the bitter end and without mincing, by the two protagonists, Shad Galloway, the tyrranical factor of a Hudson Bay trading post, and Gabriel Dupre, the French-Canadian trapper who is her betrothed.

The Two-Fold Festival

On Memorial Day we are supposed to remember our war dead. That grows difficult in a season and a land where people live rapidly and forget quickly. This day, despite its associations, hase become largely a festival of pleasure.

No fault need be found with a reasonable amount of cheerful recreation on such a day. It is the only holiday we have at this time of year. So it has to serve the double purpose of a spring festival and a festival of sorrow. If the former does not run away with the latter, it is all right.

The essential thing, if it is to be really a day of memorial for those who have died for their country, is to keep thoughts of them and their sacrifice as a serious background of our thinking. Gloom is futile. But there should be enough solemnity to remind light-minded folk of the reason for this day, and there should be forward looks and constructive thinking lest the future bring more reason for sadness than exists already.

Remembering these dead inevitably brings memories of war and hopes of peace. And the occasion would be almost joyful if it could be felt now that the big sacrifices were over—that the uniformed dead have won peace for the living, as they desired. But it is hard to escape a feeling that the dead have been cheated somehow. The world, seven years after the war that was to end war, is not at peace.

True, there are no big wars waging; but the world is full of armies and navies and air fleets, and multifarious preparations for attack and defense. There is still lacking the spirit of peace, without which all else is vain.

A calm thinking over of the situation, and a deliberate "will to peace" on the part of the leading nation in the world, should help a little.

"Learn to Swim Campaign"

June 1-6 will be "Learn to Swim Week" at the Y. M. C. A.

Determined to teach the art to all East Liverpool boys more than 10 years of age, T. F. Scheffer, physical director; Harvey Price, boys' work director, and expert swimmers from the boys' division, will enroll all applicarts in the campaign which opens Monday.

Hundreds of Ceramic City residents are among the 40,000,000 Americans who cannot swim. Both for pleasure and safety, everyone who possibly can should master the art.

Lack of confidence is the chief reason for non-swimmers, Y. M. C. A. officials say. There is no reason why any normal person should have an abnormal fear of the water. With the introduction of new methods of teaching, combined with the realization of the danger of not knowing how to keep afloat in the water, the ratio of three non-swimmers to one swimmer is rapidly changing.

The easiest time to learn to swim, experts say, is between the ages of 9 and 14 when co-ordination comes with little effort and when confidence is most easily acquired. A child should learn to swim as early as possible.

Irrespective of your age, everyone should acquire enough knowledge to give them a feeling of safety on a fishing trip or when a foolish friend rocks the boat.

Boys, if you cannot swim, enroll in the Y. M. C. A. campaign. The instruction is free.

Where Americans Fail

"The poorest thing that Americans do is the government of their big cities," says a leading city manager. "The administration of a great city is a business worthy of high business and technical ability, and cannot succeed with less. The administration of cities is still left largely to mere chance. The principal qualification for almost any city office is still the ability to get and hold it. Most of the defects of local government are due to the fact that they are so largely dominated by men chosen on purely personal, local, selfish or sentimental grounds."

True enough—though not so true as it was a few years ago. "The shame of the cities" is not what it used to be. The shame has faded, in most cases, to mere folly or bad judgment. Hundreds of cities have adopted the manager plan, which merely regards the city as a big business corporation and aims to choose and uphold an executive on the same principles applied in private corporations. It is a device for divorcing business from partisan politics and preferring ability to mere popularity.

The idea unquestionably is sound. It no longer needs much defense, although it has not been uniformly successful. Where city managership has failed, it has failed usually because the divorce between public business and politics was not complete enough, or because the people, having indulged in a momentary spasm of reform, did not follow it up and see that proper men were chosen and managers were left free to manage.

A highly intelligent and public-spirited community can make almost any governmental system work. A city that cannot get good government out of modern city management would probably not get it under any plan.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 29.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: The crowds that clot in front of the Palace theater. Hair line togs. And hats with a Wales dip. Straw blondes who chew gum and hang to coat lapels as they talk. Shorty, Broadway's famous messenger.

Trim soft shoe dancers. Hasbeens who talk of other days. Split-week small timers who advertise: "Double in brass and have Tuxedo." Gate crashers and wily ticket specs. All fiction characters fleshed. And blood-hounds for the spotlight.

The bored looking girls in the movie ticket cages. The milliner who has a Bokhara prayer rug in the window for her lap dog. John McGraw talking to a poet. The street gamins who fish for lost coins in subway gratings. And the racing form hawker with the sophisticated sparkle of a Menjou.

A cigar store's window warning: "Our clerks are armed for holdup men!" Dejected looking men with determined women. And the affable cop at Fortieth and Broadway. Whatever became of Wilson Mizner? Mildewed cafes reeking with fumes of stale cabbage, garlic and burnt fat.

Paul Whiteman and his mystical smile. And oozing opulence. Italian shoe shine parlor proprietors with panches, diamond rings and oiled hair. The owls on the old Herald building. Something you can't forget—like a stitch in the side.

The leathery faced old magic shop proprietor on Thirty-fourth street. Who sniffs at patrons with distrust. Side street tea rooms filling up with patrons from the big hotels. Hendrick Van Loon and his monocle. The tiny flower shop near the Martinique.

A bird cage in a limousine. And the mechanical one cent shoe shiners. Wonder who'll pay for my lunch today? Rosy cheeked loft workers parading to the avenue. The noon-day Yiddish extras. The stroll ends.

Near the Flatiron building—or did you know the official name is the Fuller building?—a little cubby hole fruit merchant was shining his apples and oranges. Three street rowdies descended on him and filled their pockets. No doubt business had been bad and tears ran down his cheeks at his fresh troubles.

"Soon I go back to it," he wailed. "Everybody here, they got a craze, they got a craze!" This is not much of a story after reading it, but it gave a country boy a lump in the throat.

About my only visits to drug stores is when I am in the market for a stamp. There is one on Twenty-third street, however, where I met my Waterloo. I sauntered in and asked where I might purchase a stamp.

"They usually keep them at the postoffice," said the cashier who did not even look up from his copy of hot confessions.

There is no more reason why a drug store should go to the annoyance of selling stamps than a high-class jewelry establishment. Yet I believe it pays. I tackled another drug store and a sale was promptly and courteously made. Going out I passed a book counter and purchased three volumes. Also a rubber ball for my dog.

My friend Walter Kingsley, who is an expert in vaudeville hokum as well as the rarer side of the art, could perhaps enlighten us, but it is just a suspicion of mine that one of the oldest of tricks for a vaudeville "flop" to win applause is this. At the end of the act the lesser players walk across the stage for a hand, gradually working up to the star himself or herself. It is a teasing sort of business, but I have never seen it fail to win the thunderous echo whereas otherwise there would be the business of reaching for hats.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Another Golf Prodigy.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—When the golfing stars of this country and England gather on the Oakmont course at Pittsburgh the last week in August to decide the United States amateur championship for 1925, the picturesque and most interesting figure will be a Washington prep school lad of 18 years. The famous Columbia Country club of this city, where the national open was played in 1921, has produced a golf prodigy to rival Bobby Jones, the Georgia marvel, who has been the most spectacular performer in national golf contests for almost a decade and who now wears the amateur championship crown.

Roland Mackenzie, who will be Washington's contender for stellar honors at Pittsburgh, has been playing golf for only four years, but he has demonstrated that he has the ability and the temperament to make a successful bid for the championship. He may not come through this year, but his is a game that sooner or later will not be denied. Freddie MacLeod, the well known local professional and onti-time national open champion, who has been Roland's instructor, likes his pupil's chances, and MacLeod knows more about golf than a lot of people who have been writing books on the subject.

Young Mackenzie had a meteoric flash in the golfing firmament in last year's national amateur contest, which he entered practically unknown and not even rated as a possible contender by the experts who follow the big tournaments. He played only one match, after qualifying handily, but that was one to be remembered.

His opponent was Von Elm, the western star, and it was not thought that Mackenzie had so much as a look-in. This pre-view of his chances was apparently confirmed by the early part of the match, for after playing 21 holes of the 36 Roland was 8 down. With only 15 more holes to play it did not seem possible that the Washington youth would make even a creditable showing, but he did not seem to know when he was beaten and staged a most remarkable comeback.

He began reeling off pars and better and before Von Elm realized what was happening the match was on practically even terms. Word flashed over the course that a feature contest was being waged by two players whom the gallery had ignored and for the last few holes Roland and his more seasoned adversary had a large following of excited spectators.

Ended on 37th Green.

The match that might have ended with Von Elm the victor by a wide margin was finnally squared and it was necessary to play an extra hole. Mackenzie lost on the thirty-seventh green, but even in defeat he had put up the most spectacular performance of the tournament and had made himself somebody instead of an unknown in the world of golf.

Von Elm proved to be the player who was to battle with Bobby Jones in the finals, when the Georgia player came into the glory for which he had been contending since he was 14 years of age, and the merest caprice of fate might have given Mackenzie a real chance at the big prize in his first national contest. If Roland had defeated Von Elm he might easily have been the one to live through to the finals, and he might have given Jones more of a fight than Von Elm was able to put up.

Changed conditions governing the national amateur this year make prophecy and speculation altogether idle. Only 16 players are to qualify in the medal play and this means that a single missed shot, a moment's carelessness, or the slightest break of bad luck, can eliminate any of the veterans of the big tournaments, to say nothing of what may happen to the youngsters.

All the contestants will be under a terrific strain in the qualifying round. It was bad enough when the players with the 32 best scores qualified for the match play, but when each man realizes that he must be one of the 16 best, the test becomes one to try the stoutest heart and the soundest physical and nervous constitution. There will be perhaps 200 contenders, every one of whom is capable of shooting par golf, or better, and many of whom may show a flash of phenomenal from and skill. Those who survive the ordeal must be good. More than that, they must be lucky. There are good and bad breaks in almost every round of golf, and to be one of the select 16 at Oakmont a player will need a horseshoe at every stage of the qualification.

There has been much criticism of the action of the governing committee of the United States Golf association with respect to the qualifying for the national amateur. Heretofore the amateur event has been essentially a test of proficiency at match play, while the professional and open tour-

WONDERS, WONDERS, NEVER CEASING!

Len Van Gordner

Here is a case where Mr. Len Van Gordner, living at 5 West Dawson St., Warren, O., was relieved of ailments from which he had suffered for the past two years. He complained of indigestion, loss of appetite, couldn't sleep well, gas on stomach, headaches, dizzy spells, his kidneys bothered him, causing pains and aches across the back and stiff joints. Improvement started after taking the first bottle of Ka-di-ok the wonderful herbal stomach tonic and system builder in Mr. Van Gordner's own words: "Ka-di-ok is wonderful; although I have taken but one bottle, I eat and sleep good; pains have left me, no more dizziness, and no gas on the stomach. I intend to continue taking it for a while. It is a wonderful tonic."

Thousands of others have said likewise. The genuineness of these statements can not be impeached; all are from substantial citizens, who speak truth, and it behooves others suffering from those ailments for which Ka-di-ok is recommended to get a bottle at once and start on the road to health.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathews Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 W. 6th street.

Are You One of the 98%?

Recently the Lydia E. Pingham Medicine Co., of Lynn, Mass., sent out over one hundred thousand questionnaires to women who had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, asking if they had been helped by its use. From the replies received 98 per cent of women, from all walks of life, answered in the affirmative, telling how they had been relieved from the various ailments for which they had taken it. Isn't this a wonderful recommendation for the efficiency of this old-fashioned root and herb medicine.

ALL OF HIS ILL HEALTH WAS DUE TO CATARRH

Indigestion, Lack of Appetite, Bloating Dyspepsia and Constipation Symptoms

World's Tonic Cleaned Up the Membranes of His Head and Stomach — Now Back on the Job.

"I did not realize all my ill-health for the last five years was due to nothing but Catarrh", said Mr. Mack Turner, 1505 Main St., Wellsville in a recent talk with the Worlds Tonic druggist.

"I had taken many kinds of stomach medicines, thinking my trouble was due to indigestion, but after using two bottles of World's Tonic I feel entirely well for the first time in five years. I am now positive I had Catarrh of the stomach and head. After eating, gas formed in the stomach and bowels. At this time I would bloat so I had to unbotton my clothing, and at times was just able to breathe. I always had a burning sensation, and I often spit up handsful of mucus. I could feel the mucus drip from my head into my throat. Each morning I was drowsy and my head felt full and heavy. At times I was not able to breathe through my nostrils. My wife said I slept with my mouth open and my breathing was heavy. Constipation attacked me about four years ago and I had to use some kind of pills or salts every few days, but it is different now. Most all those bad feelings are gone and I am better off from a health standpoint than in years. I am now on my job every day. World's Tonic has certainly done wonders for me."

Many cases of general ill-health are due to nothing more or less than Catarrh. As this disease progresses the discharges from the inflamation in the throat become offensive and very posionous. A great deal of this matter is swallowed especially during sleeping, and enters the stomach. There follows all kinds of stomach disorders, general weakness, and the health in general declines rapidly. A person so suffering needs World's Tonic, which is a systemic treatment for Catarrh, and banishes it from the system. Get it at Carnahan's also Brannan's, Wellsville, or any reliable druggist.

50,000,000 Blosoms Will Cover Graves Of America's Dead

America's dead will sleep this Memorial Day beneath the richest tribute this nation ever has offered to a sentiment—50,000,000 individual blossoms, representing virtually every variety of flower.

The fortune thus scattered upon the nation's graves, it is estimated, will total $5,000,000.

These figures were obtained in a national survey just completed by the National Memorial Day Association.

BUCYRUS, May.—The deed whereby Daniel Aumiller gives this city 30 acres of land for park purposes provides the land shall revert to the original owner if at any time it is not used for park purposes. The deed also, stipulates that there shall be no "Sunday desecration and no special privileges shall be permitted in, or upon, the property." City council has deferred action on the proposal that the deed be accepted until a committee could call upon Aumiller and find out what his interpretation of "Sunday desecration' is.

SPECIAL LEVIES MUST BE PAID

County Commissioners Instruct Treasurer to Take Action.

A resolution has been passed by the county commissioners instructing County Treasurer Jo Pike, beginning December next, to collect special assessments at the same time December and June taxes are paid. The special assessments are to be placed against all properties on the duplicate where such assessments belong, instead of the taxes being kept in one duplicate and the special assessments in another record book.

As a result of this resolution, all city auditors and others having in charge records of special assessments, have been notified to immediately forward, either a correct record of all properties in their taxing district against which special assessments have been levied, or to send a representative to Lisbon to search the records for such properties against which special assessments remain unpaid.

It is estimated that between $250,000 and $500,000 in special assessments remain outstanding and unpaid in this county at this time. No special effort has been put forth to collect these assessments in past years. The old rule of keeping special assessments allied with the tax duplicate was abandoned some years ago, and because of this reason there has been laxity in collecting these charges.

It is admitted by those in authority that where such special street, sewer, and water assessments remain unpaid, and properties sold and resold in the mean time, that titles to many properties are at this time clouded, unless it is specified in deeds that assessments are to be paid by the purchasers of such property.

For many years the bonds sold to pay for street, sewer and water improvements and extensions have been paid from the interest and sinking fund, whereas the bonds were sold in the first place in anticipation of the collection of the special assessments.

The record will show that over $40,000 in unpaid special assessments will be charged up against properties in East Liverpool, and that $20,000 or more is due to be paid in Salem, with corresponding amounts in other communities.

The claim of the county commissioners is, that after these assessments are collected, taxing districts will have additional funds to take care of their obligations, and that all such communities will be in better shape to clear many old bond issues quickly.

W. MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, East Liverpool. Miss Birch has been employed as a teacher.

Man Seeks Divorce.

Claiming that his wife has been absent from his home for more than three years, and that he does not know her whereabouts, Jesse E. Males, through his counsel, Cochran and Crawford of East Liverpool, has filed a petition in common pleas court seeking a divorce from Ruth Esther Males.

The couple were married in Wheeling June 28, 1920, and the petition relates that the defendant left her home without cause.

Case Appealed.

In an action filed in the court of Justice P. V. Mackall of East Liverpool, John C. Hughes claimed that as a result of his car being hit on May 2 last by one being driven by Ralph Boswell was damaged to the extent of $250.

The court rendered a judgment against Boswell for $156.71, and now Boswell has taken an appeal to common pleas court, having posted $400 as an appeal bond. The plaintiff in this action is represented by Cochran and Crawford, while Brokaw and Brokaw represent the defendant.

Expect Many Bids.

Probably 10 bids will be filed with the county commissioners June 8 when the contract is to be awarded for the grading and surfacing of the North Georgetown-Valley road, and over a new route that has been established. It has been estimated that this job will cost $27,992.48.

Checking Records.

Representatives of the state bureau of inspection have been engaged during the last week in checking the records of the Fairmount Children's home at Alliance. The task will continue into next week.

EASTERN FIELD IN FINAL TEST

Gallery Watches Rival Stars in Clash for Medal.

By Robert E. Harlow.

LIDO COUNTRY CLUB, LONG BEACH, N. J., May 29.—Headed by MacDonald Smith and Johnny Farrell, who established a new course record of 70 on each of the first days, the field of survivors entered upon its first test this morning in the eastern qualifying round of the national open golf championship. A break in the sequence of good weather greeted the early birds leaving the first tee, storm clouds hovering on the horizon.

"Mac" Smith, Hagen, Barnes, Armour, Kirkwood, McLeod and Ouimet were among the stars who starred in the morning field.

Farrell, Bobby Jones, Diegel, Sarazen, Mike Brady and Angel de la Torre of Spain were scheduled to complete their 36-hole journey this afternoon. Only the 58 best scores and ties will be permitted to take part in the championship proper at Worcester, Mass.

The crowd was keyed up to concert pitch over the battle between Smith, Jones, Farrell and Hagen for the medal.

The card named Jones with Hazen, the gallery focus of the day; Farrell and Diegel, and Brady and Willie Macfarlane.

Athletics Beat Nats Twice.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—Connie Mack's Athletics took both ends of a double header with Washington and thereby increased their lead on first place to three full games. The first game was won by an 11 to 3 count, the second by a score of 9 to 4.

Rock Crushing Slugger Meets Wily, Clever Boxer

By George Barry.

NEW YORK, May 29.—A wily, clever boxer against a rock crushing slugger.

Ever since David licked Goliath, the experts have differed violently in a case of this kind, and today proved no exception. Seldom have the critics been more markedly at variance than they were today over Paul Berlenbach's changes of lifting the light-heavyweight crowd from Mike McTigue in their 15-round battle in Yankee stadium tonight.

Mike is the clever one. There are plenty who say that Mike is champion today because he is clever and not because he is a fighter, and it is this school of thought that has established the challenger, "Punch 'Em Paul," a favorite to win. It is one of few times in pugilistic history that a challenger has entered the ring a favorite over the champion.

But Berlenbach's margin of favoritism was not large, despite his popularity, and Mike's unpopularity with the Gotham boxing public.

Ten to nine and six to five does not indicate any overwhelming favoritism and there was plenty of money along Broadway that McTigue's admittedly superior cleverness would keep him out of harm's way for 15 rounds. The McTigue backers are basing their hopes on a verdict for the champion on points.

Indications today pointed to a capacity house. The show is for the milk fund benefit, insuring the presence, not only of the ordinary fight crowd, but of society folk generally.

Tex Rickard, who is promoting the show, announced today the advance sale already has passed the $125,000 mark, and with the last minute scramble that always develops for seats, the affair is expected to gross around $200,000.

Berlenbach's popularity is based almost entirely upon his slugging proclivities. In the 27 bouts he has engaged in since entering the fight game, he has scored 21 knockouts, and some of them were what Broadway calls "tough babies."

On the other hand, McTigue has fought but seven times since he took the title from Battling Siki, who won it from Georges Carpentier, and of that lucky number he has scored two knockouts of setups. He took his own referee to Georgia with him on one occasion to get a verdict over Young Stribling, the Georgia schoolboy.

There will be no marked difference in the weight of the men. Both were reported today well under the 157-pound light heavyweight limit.

Faber Weakens in Ninth.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Red Faber weakened in the ninth inning when Manager Cobb, of Detroit, injected his pinch hitter into the game and overtook Chicago after the locals had scored four runs on Kamm's home run with the bases filled in the eighth inning.

Chicago tied the count in their half of the ninth, but Ted Lyons, who relieved Faber, was unsteady in the tenth inning and started the visitors victory with a wild throw to second. Bunched hits followed this, and Detroit won 7 to 5.

Cost of the proposed water power plan to supply Dublin with electricity is estimated at $35,000,000.

MELHORN LEADS WESTERN FIELD

CHICAGO, May 29.—With a card of 137 for the two days' play, William (Wild Bill) Mehlhorn led the field in the qualifying tests for the national open championship in the east next week. Dave Robertson of Detroit was second with 143. Others who qualified were Alex Cunningham, Toledo, 145; Bob Shave, Cleveland, 146; James Wenger, Jock Hutchinson, 147 each; Wilfred Reid, Capt. E. F. Carter, William M. Creavy, F. S. Gallett, Harry Hampton, 148; Larry Nabholtz, Al Watrous, Al Espinosa, Craigwood, 149; Robert A. Gardner, Alex Ayton, H. Martin, Willie Hunter, 150; James J. Says His Prescription Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pain and Twinges--Is Guaranteed

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

East Liverpool druggists and every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if ALLENRHU, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

ALLENRHU has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of ALLENRHU, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless ALLENRHU decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed East Liverpool druggists and druggists everywhere to guarantee it as above in every instance.

Czechs Plan National Park on Large Scale In Central Europe

PRAGUE, May —Now that the strained relations between Czecho-Sovakia and Poland are gradually being replaced by more cordial ones, it is not unlikely that the scheme for the creation of a beautiful national park, in the glorious Tatra Mountains, just where they form a natural barrier between the two countries, will soon be realized.

Drawn up by eminent Czech naturalists, the scheme provided for the conversion of a tract of mountain and primeval forest, some hundred square miles in area.

This area, although little known, includes some of the most beautiful scenery in Central Europe.

"The Rag Man" Promises to Be Jackie's Funniest

In his latest Metro-Goldwyn production, "The Rag Man," which is coming to the American Theatre Monday. Jackie Coogan has a story that is timely in its application, for it is a beautiful argument against race prejudices—though of course its reason for existence is not to preach, but to entertain.

The story, written by Willard Mack, tells of a little Irish boy who falls into the hands of a junk dealer, becomes his active, and finally his 'senior'" partner, and throughout is his tormenting, adorable and aggravating little comrade. There is plenty of pathos, but there is more than even the usual quota of 'Coogan Comedy" in this picture. Eddie Cline was given the post of director by Jack Coogan, Sr., and was instructed to "make it the funniest picture that Jackie has ever starred in."

And that's precisely what Eddie Cline has done.

THE WORLD SHALL BE ESTABLISHED
millions now living will never die

Shifting of governments has been the history of the world; and much suffering has resulted from the thoughtless unconcern of Powers — jealous, crafty, plotting for control of the world.

Professions of peace are now rampant, plans are afloat promising stability. Yet there comes to light a ceaseless, untiring working to create weapons of destruction — aircraft, poison gas, cruisers, bombs, liquid fire.

Designs against neighbor nations, which are really plans of annihilation, lack the promise of stability. Yet the prophecies revealing present tendencies show that peace, permanent peace, will follow the confusion, distress and reeling perplexity of our world.

Chester Nine Tightens Grip On First Place In City League

Riley's Crew Downs Trotters In 6 to 3 Game At Smith Field

M. Cebula, West Virgini ans' Hurling Ace, Supplants Hoy in First Frame and Turns Back Rivals; Pinchhitter Potts Poles Out Double to Bring in Winning Runs in Fifth.

Overcoming a three run lead in the fourth and fifth innings, Chester defeated the Trotter club of the City Industrial league last evening at Smith Field, Chester, 6 to 3, making the second victory of the Riley crew over the local club in three days.

More than 1,000 intensely enthusiastic fans witnessed the contest. Lined along first and third base lines, the fans sat up a clamor of shouting and rooting that has had no precedent in city league games this season.

As a result of its victory the Chester club takes a tighter grasp on first place, the Trotters, in second place, hold a firm grip on their post, with a one-run lead over the K. T. K. nine.

Hoy started on the hilltop for Chester and but three men faced him and two runs were scored. Then M. Cebula, who defeated Trotters at Patterson Field Tuesday, supplanted him. Pollock came up and hit a long fly to P. Bennett, enabling E. Bayley, who had tripled, to finish. Thereafter Cebula blanked the clever playing auto contingent with regularity.

Cebula was in rare form. Had he started the game, a shut-out might have been recorded. He did not walk a single batter and he fanned seven. He kept the five hits he allowed scattered except in the growing darkness of the sixth, when, after two were out, Kinsey and Aufderheide singled in succession, but their efforts were fruitless as Hunselman fanned.

The big noise of the contest came in the fifth when, with the score 3 to 2 in favor of Trotters, the game was broken up by the giant Potts, who, with the bases clogged by reason of the wildness of Barr who had replaced Heckathorne, sent over the winning runs.

The fifth opened with L. McMath drawing a pass from Heckathorne. Then Barr was sent in. W. McMath promptly sacrificed. P. Cebula walked and stole second as McMath went to third. F. Marshall drew four wide ones, filling the bases.

DeLong drove to E. Bayley, who threw to Hunselman, forcing out L. McMath. Cochrane received a pass and P. Cebula went in with the tying run. Potts, batting for P. Bennett, doubled to middle and F. Marshall and DeLong registered. Hunselman dropped Moore's infield fly. The latter stole second and tore several ligaments in his right leg when he dropped into the sack. On the muff, Cochrane counted. Moore groaned in pain at second and after Dr. C. E. Campbell had examined him, he was carried off the field. Campbell (not the doctor, however), took his place. The inning ended when M. Cebula fanned.

Heckathorne allowed but three hits during his tenure on the mound, but he was wild, passing four.

Three fast double plays marked the day's playing with but a total of three miscues by both teams.

Potts' spectacular hit in the fifth was the batting feature. He had a perfect batting mark as did L. McMath in two walks and a double in three appearances, and W. McMath, who had the unique record of two timely sacrifices and a walk in three times up.

Though pitching sensationally, M. Cebula fanned three times as did Hunselman.

DeLong caught Cebula in superb fashion and his triple in the fourth scored Chester's first run. He himself counted later.

How the Opening Runs Were Made.

J. Strobel walked in the first and reached second as Hoy threw late to L. McMath at second. Both runners scored on E. Bayley's triple to middle. The latter counted on Pollock's fly to P. Bennett.

DeLong, tripling to middle in the fourth, scored F. Marshall, who had previously walked, and himself finished as Herbert threw out P. Bennett at first.

K. T. K. DEFEATS LAUGHLIN NINE

Bucher Allows West Virginians Three Safeties.

Although wild at times, Bucher of the K. T. K. City Industrial league club held Laughlin to three hits last evening at Columbian park and the Ohio potters finished in front, 6 to 2.

Finley, with three hits in three times up, had a perfect day at bat, as did Bucher with two safeties in two trips out.

Digman was touched for eleven safeties during the session. Finley missed one of six chances at short and with Shaw at second excelled in the field, the latter accepting five that came his way.

McShane walked in the first and was sacrificed to second by Shaw. He finished on Finley's single and Simcox's fly to Stroble.

Merchant, singling in the second, reached second on Rairden's out and scored on Pollock's bunt. The latter went around on Bucher's single.

In the third Babb walked and scored on Watson's single. Sayres walked in the fourth. Robinson singled. Digman's out at first sent Sayre in.

In the fourth also Rairden of K. T. K. singled. Pollock sacrificed. Bucher doubled, scoring Rariden. McShane singled. The runners counted on Finley's triple.

Despite the use of three pinch hitters in the sixth by Manager Bricelin, Laughlin failed to score.

116% INCREASE

Chrysler Breaking Sales Records While Demand Goes Still Higher

The public's insistence on results that only the Chrysler Six delivers grows more emphatic week by week and month by month.

Mounting sales figures in the weekly reports for the United States show that the Chrysler Six—already a record-breaker in popularity—is soaring higher than ever before.

The latest weekly report registers an increase of 116% in retail sales over the corresponding week of 1924.

The sales for that week were 65% bigger than the very biggest week of 1924.

Furthermore, the last three weeks reported are the biggest weeks of 1925.

April, 1925, shows the largest month's business in Chrysler Six history.

Always mounting to higher and higher figures.

In Illinois, for example, April, 1925, shows an increase of 237% over 1924; Connecticut and the Boston district, including the remainder of New England, 133%; the Atlanta district, including Georgia, South Carolina and Florida, 364%; San Francisco district, including California, New Mexico and Nevada, 89%.

There never has been anything like it as a demonstration of public approval.

All of which becomes even more amazing, more significant when you recall that in 1924 the Chrysler Six had already established sales records unequaled in a quarter-century of motor car history.

Turn to the chart at your right. It shows you in simple and graphic way Chrysler Six production month by month.

See how the lines shoot up as Chrysler factory facilities were increased to meet the even more emphatic public demand for Chrysler Six results.

The public knows exactly what it is about. It has long waited for Chrysler Six quality and performance and it is determined to enjoy their advantages — even to the abandonment of cars previously owned, that cost thousands of dollars more than the Chrysler Six.

The public knows that no matter what the make or price, only the Chrysler Six gives them Chrysler brilliance of performance, Chrysler roadability and ease, Chrysler quality, economy and the score of other advantages that belong to this car alone.

We are eager to have you find out for yourself what these Chrysler Six results are.

Haskin's Letter

naments have been decided at medal play. There will be match play in the amateur this year, of course, but by restricting the number of qualifiers to 16 it is felt that the importance of the medal play round has been so emphasized as completely to overshadow the hole by hole contests.

Good Players May Slip.

It is pointed out that players good enough to win through the tournament to the semi-finals and finals may slip ever so slightly in the qualification and fail to get a chance at the title. Some years ago Jerry Travers almost failed to qualify in a national amateur. He was the last one of the 32 to get a chance at the match play, and yet he came through and won the championship. Had there been only 16 qualifiers that year Travers would not have had a look-in.

Similarly it is within the range of possibilities that men will qualify at Oakmont who are by no means entitled to be classed among the 16 best amateurs there. They may display an especially brilliant game for 18 or 36 holes, and yet not have the sound game necessary to carry them through a week's play.

Thus it is that the golfing experts are anticipating a lot of surprises and upsets at Pittsburgh, and in the prevailing conditions there is no telling how the youth in whom Washington's hopes are centered will fare. Only one thing is reasonably certain — if Roland Mackenzie qualifies he will give a good account of himself in the match play.

So far this season Roland has played in three big tournaments in the District of Columbia. In two of these he won both the qualifying medals and first honors in match play. In the third he was not so good on his qualifying round, but he walked through the field in match play and won the tournament by such scores as 4 to 3, 7 and 6, 6 and 5, and 5 and 4.

His best round at tournament play was a 69 with which he established a course record for the Washington Golf and Country club, being the first player, either professional or amateur, to break a par 70. Some of the best professionals in the country have tried to break par on this course, a substantial cash purse having been offered to the one who could do it. In shooting his 69, young Mackenzie played the first nine holes in 31 strokes, which is five under par. That kind of golf is unbeatable, and if he can uncork that brand at Oakmont he will make golf history.

Roland has the ideal physique and temperament for a golfer. He is a tall, rangy lad, built from the ground up, and has tremendous hitting power, drives of well over 300 yards being frequent features of his game. Obviously, to play the kind of golf he does he is a shotmaker, having every kind of shot in his bag that a champion needs. Perhaps his best asset is his quiet, equable disposition. If he has any "nerves" he has never exhibited them.

He played his first golf four years ago and began to figure prominently in his second season, when he was the runner-up in the Middle-Atlantic championship, being defeated by his father, Albert R. Mackenzie. Last year he ranked among the top-notchers of this section, winning several big tournaments in addition to his performance in the national amateur, in which, by the way, he played his last 15 holes in three under 4s.

Young Mackenzie does not live on a golf course. He has been required to keep up his school work as a prerequisite to being permitted to participate in tournaments, and his opportunities to practice have necessarily been limited.

His favorite method of developing his game is to play a round of 18 holes by himself, playing four balls, and playing out each hole with every one, even to the last putt.

"The Night Club" Is Screen Feature At Ceramic Theatre

They told Raymond Griffith that a bull connot kick backwards, that he can kick with a forward or a sideways motion only.

That's all applesauce, according to Griffith, who gained accurate knowledge on the subject recently, when a large, red-haired and black-souled hecow planted its right kind hoof on Ray's trousers right where they lost their creases quickest.

The experiment took place during the filming of Paramount's "The Night Club," a rollicking story adapted from William de Mille's stage play "After Five." Griffith, having been treated rudely and roughly by the bull, is shown in the act of using his right foot to register his disapproval on the animal's posterior.

But "Bombo," the name by which the bull is affectionately known by Raymond Griffith, sensed the impending chastisement and, as the sporting writers say, he "beat Griffith to the punch."

Featured with Griffith in the cast of "The Night Club," at the Ceramic theater today and Saturday, are Vera Reynolds, Wallace Beery and Louise Fazenda. The story is one of a young woman-hater, who falls heir to a million but has to marry a certain girl to collect.

Come and laugh yourself silly.

Scratches and Cuts

Thousands of mothers have Resinol Ointment ready for the cuts, scratches, burns, etc., which daily occur in the home where there are children. They know that it is perfectly pure and harmless, that it helps to prevent infection and hastens the healing. Children will call for Resinol when hurt because it does not smart or sting even if applied to a raw, badly irritated surface.

Anti-Aircraft Shell To Prevent Air Attack Invented in Japan

TOKYO, May.—Invention of an anti-aircraft shell by means of which nets are spread across the path of advancing airplanes, causing them to become entangled in the meshes of the nets and thus bringing them to the ground, is claimed by Takeo Takagi. Tests of the shell recently have been made by Japanese army and navy officials, but the results have not been made public.

"Modan" is the name which Takagi has given to the shell. He asserts that it may be fired from an anti-aircraft gun, by a powerful rocket, or dropped from another airplane. The explosion of the shell releases a net which is suspended from parachutes and descends slowly in the path of the advancing plane.

By dusting powder rosin into the feathers of each fowl before scalding, the dressing of poultry is made a much lighter and less disagreeable task.

A MAN WHO BECAME FAMOUS

Doctor R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears above, was not only a successful physician but also a profound student of the medicinal qualities of Nature's remedies, roots and herbs, and by close observation of the methods used by the Indians, he discovered their great remedial qualities, especially for weaknesses of women, and after careful preparation succeeded in giving to the world a remedy which has been used by women with the best results for half a century. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is still in great demand, while many other so called "cure-alls" have come and gone. The reason for its phenomenal success is because of its absolute purity, and Dr. Pierce's high standing as an honored citizen of Buffalo is a guarantee of all that is claimed for the Favorite Prescription as a regulator for the ills peculiar to women.
